Second Man In Niles Kidnaping Pleads Guilty

Sentenced To Term In Penitentiary By Judge At Warren, O.

WAS ACCUSED OF HARBORING BOY

Speedy Justice Is Encountered By Youngstown Men In De Jute Case

(BULLETIN)

WARREN, O., Mar. 21.—John De Marco, 31, of Youngstown, today entered a plea of guilty to a charge of "harboring and concealing" James De Jute, 11-year-old Niles boy who was kidnaped and held captive for three days.

Accepting the plea, Judge Lynn B. Griffith immediately sentenced De Marco to one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary.

De Marco was the alleged accomplice of Dowell Harriges, 30, also of Youngstown, who last week was given a life sentence after his conviction on charges of kidnaping the youth. The penalty was the maximum under Ohio law.

PA NEW OBSERVES

One of Pa. New's boys essayed to walk this morning with a pair of shoes which had been newly halfted. Every time he took two steps forward he slipped back one, until finally he got to the hill where he could slide down without much effort.

Spring received a chilly greeting, a blanket of snow and sleet covering the ground this morning. The farmers are not complaining in the least, as it will prove beneficial to the ground and grass crops already in.

Those unfortunate souls who had to drive north out of New Castle about 7 or 8 o'clock Saturday night were certainly to be pitied. Snow flurries poured down in torrents and even if windshields could be kept free of snow and ice the binding effect created made it difficult to see. Cars crawled along at a snail's pace.

The new way for a depression to be halted was told in several sermons at different city churches yesterday. At the First U. P. church, Cienmore boulevard, the pastor, Dr. S. E. Irvine, emphasized again the "Bible cure." Others also suggested it.

Rural mail carriers were taking no chances this morning of striking impassable roads. Their cars, or most of them, carried chains.

School Teachers Send Reply To Proposal Of Citizen's Committee

No formal meeting of school teachers has as yet been called by executive council of the New Castle chapter of the Pennsylvania State Educational association, to consider action in the present school crisis, according to Miss Mary Vandivort, chairlady of the committee.

In a letter to Attorney J. Elder Bryan, Miss Vandivort answers a letter addressed to her recently by the committee of citizens interested in the present school problem. The letter, which is self-explanatory, follows:

101 Milton Street,
New Castle, Pa.,
March 21, 1932.

Attorney J. Elder Bryan,
Lawrence Savings & Trust Building,
New Castle, Pa.

My dear Mr. Bryan:

The formal letter of your committee to me as chairman of the executive council of the committee on public relations for the local teachers' organization, requires, I suppose, a formal answer before the mass-meeting this evening.

As chairman of that council I considered it inadvisable even to attempt to call a meeting of our teachers in response to the letter submitted to me Thursday, March 17, at 9:30 p. m. That afternoon the council had its regular meeting and had considered the possibility of taking some sort of vote from the body of our teachers when the subject for voting became definite, as we supposed it might, after the meeting of citizens scheduled for March 21. It was agreed during the council's discussion that no intelligent vote could be taken before the mass-meeting owing to the shortness of the time and the

Ohio Guardsmen Held Ready For Mining Trouble

Governor White Orders Militia Prepare To Quell Mining Riots

STRIKERS CAUSE SERIOUS DAMAGE

Bituminous Fields Near Athens, O., Are Scene Of Activity

ATHENS, O., Mar. 21.—Several units of the Ohio National guard were ready today to descend upon the bituminous coal fields of Athens county and restore order, should violence break out again among striking miners.

The National guard companies were ordered held in readiness for any emergency by Governor George White after mobs of striking miners had seriously injured one mine official, stoned six others and dynamited a railroad trestle.

Strikers Warned

Gov. White's mobilization order was issued after he had conferred with adjutant general Frank D. Henderson, commander, and other officials of the national guard. The governor publicly warned the strikers that recurrence of violence will be speedily and drastically resisted. "I am warning the lawless element," he said.

SHANGHAI, Mar. 21.—Peace parleys, almost daily for more than a week resulted today in an agreement between the Chinese and Japanese representatives based on three main points:

1. Chinese troops are to remain where they are at present (outside the area within a radius of 12.4 miles of Shanghai).

2. Japanese forces are to withdraw at a time and for a distance to be arranged later.

3. A joint commission, to be composed of Chinese, Japanese, British, American, French and Italian military and diplomatic representatives.

Says Francis Lives Outside Of Borough

R. J. Crawford, registering assessor of New Wilmington borough, on whom a citation was awarded by the court, to show cause why he had refused to register Joseph J. Francis as a member of the Republican party, filed an answer this morning in which he said that the reason why he had refused to register Francis was because he is not a resident of the borough, but resides in Wilmington township. Crawford further states that Francis has resided outside the borough limits for a number of years, and should be registered in Wilmington township.

Midwinter Snow Greets First Day Of Spring

(International News Service)

Western Pennsylvania awoke today to find itself blanketed with a midwinter snow instead of tingling of the zephyrs of the first official day of spring.

Borne by a strong wind, the snow-storm swept in from the northwest and laid the state from the Ohio line to the Alleghenies under a white mantle ranging from half an inch to five inches thick, according to official U. S. weather bureau reports.

Danger of floods on the Allegheny, Monongahela and Youghiogheny rivers, all at a high stage for the fall, was apparently dispelled over the week-end. Rain and snow are expected to send them back to a higher stage but river experts predicted the high water would be carried off without flood stages being reached.

School Board Puts Local Problems Up To State Department

Problem of the New Castle school district were presented today to representatives of the department of public instruction when Dr. W. M. Denison, deputy superintendent of the department, and Dr. E. A. Quackenbush, also a deputy, met with the board of directors in the Administration building at 10:45.

The reason for the two deputies being here is that a mass meeting of citizens will be held tonight in the Senior High school auditorium. A request was made that Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of the department of public instruction come here, in which request the board

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 21.—Two new clues involving carrier pigeons engaged the attention today of the New Jersey state police, striving to solve the mysterious kidnaping of the infant son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey police, in his official announcement to the press this morning touched on the press bulletin, "The first one is alleged to have been a note in code. This was supposed to have been taken off a carrier pigeon which was beaten down by a heavy storm in Connecticut and upon being decoded by a local bootlegger it read approximately as follows: 'All lives unsafe. Kid in yacht. Making no port. Well trained care outside U. S. jurisdiction. Return bird.'"

Veteran Chicago Gangster Slain

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Mar. 21.—Into the limbo of gangdom today entered another figure long conspicuous in Chicago's criminal history.

Frank Battaglia, a veteran of gang wars despite his mere 27 years of life, lay on a morgue slab with three "slugs" in his head and back. His face pressed against the ice of a freezer was found yesterday in a desolate spot of Cook county's southwest corner, known as "Gangland's Graveyard." Broken glass near the body indicated that he had been shot in the head, thrown out of an automobile and then shot twice in the back as his prostrate form lay in the puddle.

The ships named in the Sunday navy order were the transport Chaumont, aircraft tender Jason, submarine tender Beaver, six vessels of the 17th destroyer division and six submarines.

Tax Showdown Is Set For Tuesday In House Action

Opposition Divided Between Two Proposed Courses For Revenue

HOUSE INTENT ON "SOAKING RICH"

La Guardia Proposes New Tax Plan If Sales Tax Program Is Lost

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—Friends and foes of the manufacturers' sales tax provision in the $1,096,000,000 tax increase bill gathered forces for a showdown tomorrow as the house today underwent a "cooling off" process prescribed by its leaders.

While the house considered minor measures, Democratic and Republican leaders held numerous conferences seeking a way to curb a "run-away house" intent on rewriting the bill.

Some satisfaction was found by leaders in the apparent decision of the house to levy enough new taxes to assure a balancing of the federal treasury, now running behind at the rate of $7,800,000 a day.

They were uncertain, however, what effect the day's interlude in the turbulent debate over the tax bill would have on the rampant, unorganized forces which have taken charge of the measure.

The opposition was divided between two proposed courses—striking out the sales tax and sending the bill back to the Ways and Means committee and rewriting it on the floor.

Opinions Differ

Rep. Doughton (D) of North Carolina, minority leader on the Ways and Means committee, favored the former course. Rep. La Guardia (D) of New York, majority leader, favored the latter. (Continued On Page Two)

PLANE CRASHES INTO ORCHARD

Tragedy Occurs Near Redlands, Cal., Plane Enroute From Arizona

(Special To The News)
REDLANDS, Cal., Mar. 21.—(The Associated Press.)—Investigations today were under way as a result of the wreck of an American Airways monoplane that took seven lives.

The ship rocketed into a high tension electric wire and crashed in an apple orchard north of here while enroute from Phoenix to Los Angeles in a fog Saturday night. Six men were killed instantly and their bodies burned beyond recognition. The seventh died Sunday in a hospital.

The three investigations were being conducted by the United States Department of Commerce, Colonel A. W. U'ren, and American Airways officials.

All Victims Are Men
Arthur Thomas, 36, Tucson, Ariz., Electrical Company employee, a passenger, was blown out of the ship when the gasoline tank exploded and made a pyre of the plane. Two men witnessed the crash took him to a hospital where he died Sunday after muttering: "There are all gone... they are all gone."

The other six victims were two pilots H. H. Campbell, 36, Dallas, Tex., and H. J. Kelley, 41, Burbank, Cal., and R. L. Robinson, 40, mechanical appliance manufacturer, Yonkers, N. Y., Albert Coburn, 21, Long Island, N. Y., son of F. G. Coburn, former president of American Airways; Bernie M. Goldsmith, 43, wealthy clothing merchant, St. Louis and Hugh A. indefiniteness of the committee's proposals at the citizens' meeting March 14. It was by no means decided that any vote should be taken at any time. In the published letter addressed formally to me by your committee, the proposals were no more definite.

In this formal communication to you I wish to make it quite clear that the teachers' committee on public relations functions and has functioned freely at all times; and that so far as the board of education and the superintendent of the New Castle public school system are concerned, the committee has always been and is now able to call for an expression of opinion from the members of the local organization of teachers.

The executive council of the committee on public relations has spent a good deal of time since the first of the year in trying to reach an understanding of the present problems as they concern the instructional corps. These problems are of far-reaching significance and cannot be solved without a completely impersonal and deliberate study. Such has been the conviction governing the discussions of the executive council of the committee on public relations for the New Castle teachers, and will continue to be during the life of the present council.

Very respectfully yours,
MARY E. VANDIVORT,
Chairman, Executive Council Committee on Public Relations P. S. E. A., New Castle Branch.

SCHOOL MEETING OCCURS TONIGHT

Laura S. Greenwood of Coatesville, state president of the Parent-Teachers Association, asking her what part, if any, the P. T. A. should take in the present discussion.

Urges Participation
In a telegraphic answer to Mrs. Cramer, the state president states, "clippings indicate willingness of school directors to co-operate. Dr. Rule or Dr. Denison will help P. T. A. and citizens should help board to find other ways to economize than by eliminating trade schools and domestic science. P. T. A. members should lead in using influence against any curtailment of educational facilities."

Because of the statement of the state president, the committee believes that every Parent-Teachers Association in the city should be represented at tonight's meeting, so that they will have full knowledge of what is being attempted.

It is probable that some plan of adjustment will be suggested tonight by one of the speakers. Following the meeting it is probable that a committee will be appointed to meet with the School Board and attempt to put into effect some plan of action that will result in saving the trade schools and home economics department.

The meeting tonight in the Senior High School auditorium is for the public. It opens at eight o'clock.

Tax On Oil
Bound up in the sales tax section is the proposed excise on foreign oil. This tax is backed by many members from oil states, who also oppose the general sales tax.
The Ways and Means committee was to adopt additional exemption of food stuffs from the manufacturer's 2 1/2 per cent tax, thus taking the tax off of virtually all food.
The opposition planned also to resume its "soak the rich" course by raising gift and estate taxes far beyond the rates set by the committee as well as administrative changes designed to halt alleged evasion of the tax and strike a blow at stock market speculation.

ment of the district to refrain from future violations of the law," he declared. "I am ordering units of the National Guard of Ohio to be prepared to move into this district immediately in the event that future contempt of the law is shown in the continuance of acts which threaten loss of life and property."

Disorders in the coal regions, beginning Saturday night, were the outgrowth of an announcement that the Lick Run mine of the New York Coal Company and the Mill Field Mine No. 6 of the Sunday Creek Coal company will be reopened today, despite the strike.

Hit By Brick
Andrew Chute, assistant foreman of No. 6 mine, was reported in a serious condition today. He was struck on the head with a brick when he attempted to save mine property from further damage.

The shooting occurred after a crowd of some 150 men had dynamited the struts of a rail spur leading into the mine.

Cutting of telephone wires leading into the mine fields was charged to the strikers.

The strike has been in progress since February 1. It was called in protest against an announced wage cut averaging 25 per cent.

Guardsmen Attacked.
ATHENS, O., Mar. 21.—Two National Guardsmen, enroute to relieve a shift of guardsmen on duty at the No. 6 mine of the Sunday Creek Coal Company at Millfield, near here, were attacked and stoned this morning by a mob of alleged strikers. Lieut. Col. Luke P. Wolford reported.

Unable to get through the line of rioters, who pelted the guardsmen's automobile with stones and rocks, the relief shift was forced to return to headquarters at Nelsonville. The automobile was badly damaged by the barrage of the rioters. Its body was dented and the machine's windshield and lights were smashed.

The guardsmen estimated that between 1500 and 2000 alleged strikers were gathered on the road between Nelsonville and Millfield.

Road Is Blocked

The two guardsmen, Capt. Norman Whiting of Marietta, and Capt. Harley Johnson of Columbus, reported that the rioters had blocked the road with logs and automobiles to prevent their passage to the Millfield mine neither Whiting nor Johnson was injured in the attack.

Although two mines had been scheduled to resume work this morning, officials of the pits heeded a warning issued by Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson and made no effort to operate, at least for the time being. Henderson said that any attempt to operate now might result in further bloodshed and violence.

Eight guardsmen and two deputy sheriffs stood guard at the No. 6 mine throughout last night. Due to the road blockade between Nelsonville and the mine, they were unable to get back to their headquarters.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Margaret H. Davis.
Mrs. Margaret H. Davis, aged 74, for years a Grove City resident, died at the family home there on Sunday at 3:30 a. m. following a stroke which she suffered last Tuesday night. Mrs. Davis had been ill and the stroke only hastened her death.

The wife of C. H. Davis, who survives, Mrs. Davis had several relatives living here. She was born at East Brook on June 3, 1858, the daughter of Thomas and Mary Patterson, and was married December 20, 1888.

Surviving the deceased are three children, Mrs. Clyde Uber, of Mercer; T. C. Davis, Highland avenue extension, New Castle; and Mrs. Agnes Davis, of Grove City. She also leaves three brothers and sisters, Mrs. Jennie Hughes, East Brook; R. A. Patterson, East Brook, and W. J. Patterson, East Brook.

Funeral services for Mrs. Davis will be held at the Grove City home, 610 Barnum avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with Dr. Homer B. Henderson, pastor of Grove City's United Presbyterian church officiating.

Before the body is interred at Graceland cemetery here, a short chapel service will be held at the cemetery. Friends may view the body here.

Mrs. Apoline S. Wright.

Mrs. Apoline S. Wright, aged 62, widow of John R. Wright, died Saturday evening about 7:30 o'clock at the residence of her son, Karl F. Wright, 130 Garfield avenue, following an illness of ten months due to complications.

Mrs. Wright was born in Shenango township, the daughter of Daniel and Susan Moser Geiger, on August 14, 1869. She had spent a greater part of her life in Shenango township. She was well known and held in the highest esteem by all those whom she was known. She was a member of the Savannah M. E. church.

Her husband preceded her in death in 1919. Mrs. Wright leaves one son, Karl F. Wright, at whose home she died; one step-son, Richard Wright, one sister, Mrs. Lydia McCalister, of the Butler road, and three brothers, Frank Geiger of New Castle, George Geiger of Butler, Pa., and William E. Geiger, of the Pittsburgh road. A sister, Mrs. Frank Book, preceded her in death in 1911.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the family residence, 130 Garfield avenue. Interment was made in Savannah M. E. Cemetery.

Mrs. Laura Gorley Miller

Mrs. Laura Gorley Miller, widow of W. J. Miller, formerly of this city, died Saturday, March 19, in the Masonic Home hospital at Elizabethtown after a short illness.

She is survived by five brothers: Frank, Charles and Fred Gorley of New Castle; Joe Gorley of Beaver county and Clifford Gorley of Harrisville, and the following nieces and nephews: Mrs. Ella McLaughlin, Mrs. Clara Bagnann, Mrs. Blaine Herbert, John Penrose, Harry Penrose, Claire Gorley and Charles Gorley.

The body will arrive in the city at 8:30 this evening over the Pennsylvania and will be taken to the Mahoning funeral home, from where funeral services will be held Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. with Rev. W. W. Sniff, pastor of the Madison Avenue Christian church, officiating.

Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Rachel D. Clason.

Mrs. Rachel D. Clason, aged 53, widow of William I. Clason, of 313 East Lincoln avenue, died Saturday, March 19, 1932 at 11 p. m. in the Jameson Memorial Hospital following an illness of nine weeks, due to a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Clason was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Stanley and was born in Pennsylvania, February 11, 1879. She had been a resident of this city for thirty years, was widely known and held in high esteem by all who knew her.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Lillian M. Blackford of this city and the following brothers and sisters, John Stanley of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Layman Layton of Fort Wayne, Indiana and James Stanley of Baltimore, Md.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, March 22, 1932 at 2 p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lillian M. Blackford, 1012 Delaware avenue. Interment will be made in Oak Park Cemetery.

Time Of Funeral.
Funeral services for Mrs. Frank Glasgow will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the family residence, 9 Lowry street, with Rev. W. W. Sniff, pastor of the Madison Avenue Christian church, officiating.

W. O. S. L. MEETS AT THE CASTLETON

The March meeting of the Lawrence County Union of the Women's Overseas Service League was held Saturday, March 19th, when Miss Gladys Rich and Miss Dorothy White entertained the members at a luncheon at the Castleton.

The table was centered with a large marble bust of George Washington and the national colors, red, white and blue were carried out effectively and attractively, this being the Washington Bicentennial meeting of the unit.

After the luncheon, the members were entertained with a Washington Pageant presented by George Washington Junior High School students. The plot of the pageant was in effect that "the soldiers of the Continental Army felt that if they had one flag to follow, instead of so many—one flag to represent the entire thirteen colonies, it would be an inspiration."

Captain Anderson appeals to General Washington and he agrees to help them out. Robert Morris, a wealthy citizen, knowing the financial needs of the nation, offers to Washington and congress, his wealth to carry on the struggle for freedom.

Colonel Ross suggests his niece, Mrs. Betsy Ross is one who could make the flag. The commission is given to her and she and her assistants plan a great Colonial ball to celebrate the completion of the Stars and Stripes.

The cast of characters follows: General George Washington, David Galtrell; Colonel Ross, Tom Schenck; Robert Morris, Richard Pugh; Captain Anderson, William Hart; Betsy Ross, Donna Jean Beall; Patience, Ellen Miles; Rebecca, Estella Haug; Jane, Jean Casselman; Penelope, Frances Stickle.

Parts of the Thirteen Colonies, Soldiers, Indians and Colonists were taken by members of the Glee Club. The pageant was under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Owens, director of music in the George Washington Junior High School and Miss Elizabeth Glover, director of dramatics.

Between the acts, a vocal solo, "The Second Muezzin" by Maurice Besly was sung by Miss Nancy Westlake accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Owens.

The business meeting was then held with Mrs. H. K. Bell, the president, presiding. A number of matters of interest to the unit were taken up and acted on.

The next meeting will be held in Ellwood City, Saturday, May 7, when Mrs. Paul J. Cartwright will be hostess at a one o'clock luncheon. A special guest of the Saturday meeting was Mrs. Howard Lonsdale Headland of Slippery Rock, Pa., who is a member of the Pittsburgh Unit, having served overseas with the Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. Elizabeth McWilliams, of North street, is confined to her home by illness.

JOHNSON-KENNEDY NUPTIALS PERFORMED

Lovely and colorful was the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Mary Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Harry L. Johnson of 704 Croton avenue and Clarence E. Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kennedy of Harrison street. The ceremony was performed at 3:30 o'clock before an assemblage of relatives numbering 145, in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. Tall standards of the seasons' choicest blooms outlined with graceful palms, ferns and greenery arranged with consummate by the florist, decorated the altar, and officiating was the bride's father, pastor of the church, who used the impressive ring service.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Lillian Andrews who was attired in a blue angle-skin lace gown, accompanied by Miss Muriel Johnson, sister of the bride, sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Johnson played the chorus from Lohengrin's Wedding March for the bridal party to approach the altar. While the responses were made and the vows plighted, Miss Johnson played softly strains of appropriate music. The triumphant melody of Mendelssohn's Wedding March was heard during the congratulatory period.

The bride, a popular and charming woman, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of exquisite heavy chuney silk lace in princess mode with bolero-jacket fashioned with long full sleeves of lace. The skirt of her gown was made ankle length with yolk below hipline, showing the tips of her white satin slippers. Her head dress was a turban to match with a crescent of pearls on the front as the only ornament. Her bouquet of white roses and valley lilies was tied with a huge bow of white maline and numerous streamers caught with bits of fern.

Miss Mary Whalen, as maid of honor, wore a stunning gown of pastel blue angle-skin lace patterned on the same lines with deep scalloped cape cut low in the back. She too wore satin slippers and hat to match, and carried an arm cluster of pink roses and sweet peas tied with a huge bow of blue ribbon.

Arthur Carlson, a close friend of the groom served as best man while Merle "Bud" Johnson, small brother of the bride, acted as ring bearer. Shields Johnson, another brother, and Don Stevenson were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a delicious wedding dinner was served at the Johnson residence at 5:30 o'clock. Places were laid at large tables beautifully appointed in tones of green and white for thirty-five guests including members of the immediate families and relatives. A large cake topped with miniature bride and groom flanked with tall white tapers tied with bows of green maline, formed the attractive centerpiece.

Guests were present from Greensburg, Pittsburgh, Ellwood City, Portersville, Slippery Rock and Conneville as well as many from this vicinity. Mrs. Kennedy, a graduate of the New Castle Senior High school, in the class of '27 attended Slippery Rock State Teachers College and is associated with Fisher Company here. Mr. Kennedy who received his diploma from the Senior High school in the year of '25 attended Westminster College and is a member of the Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity. He is engaged in business in this city.

The couple who will dispense with a wedding trip until later in the week, have taken up their residence at 937 Harrison street. For traveling the bride has a smart suit of dark blue trimmed in red with accessories to match.

Late Kay Laurell Estate Is Awarded To British Child

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—A young child in England today was decided to be the sole heir to the $20,000 estate left here by the late Kay Laurell, Famous beauty.

Several brothers and sisters sought the right to the money in various banks. During litigation before Surrogate O'Brien, it was found Kay's son, Joseph K. Boyle, was living in England. A. W. Stump was appointed special guardian for him.

The battle for the estate, which appreciated $10,000 in value, since the death of Miss Laurell, lasted two years.

"How can we find jobs?" is a question agitating thousands upon thousands of minds.

A member of the local committee in Uniontown, Pa., observed that an average of three out of eleven door bells were out of order.

By suggesting repairs in each case he created work. Perhaps it was only a small idea, but it was a sign of the vast amount of observation going on everywhere to discover neglected jobs and to put unemployed Americans at work.

This is only a small idea of the many jobs that can be created to aid the move to put 1,000,000 men at work.

There is an abundance of work to be done. If you are an employer you can be one of the million who are asked to hire at least one additional American now unemployed.

Are you working with the local United Action Committee to help find work for a million unemployed Americans?

And what work have YOU that needs doing?

Help the local movement to get under full swing this week!

AND THEN WHAT?

Forty indifferent pupils have been dropped from a high school in Asbury Park, New Jersey. The superintendent said they had been wasting their own time. That was no reason for firing them. But they had been wasting teachers' time. That was the reason. The superintendent felt it was unfair to spend taxpayers' money on them, and he was right.

But what is Asbury Park going to do with the forty slackers of high school age? What is society going to do with them? Will they be put to work? They might be, in times of plentiful employment, but not now. Very well—unless they are boys and girls whose parents can and will look to their engrossment in some other occupation, some of the forty, who are poor potential citizens, are going to become charges on the community in some other way.

It seems unfair that school time should be wasted on such slackers, but perhaps it is better just now to keep them where they can be supervised. And it is possible their parents are not the sort to do such a job acceptably. More than ever, then, it is up to the nearest available authority to have an eye on them.

And right here another question obtrudes. How much of the responsibility for indifference rests on the boys and girls, and how much on their parents? Assuming that the quality of instruction is up to par, it does not stand to reason that this is all a form of civil disobedience or sabotage on the part of these forty young persons.

The penalty of being dropped from school does not comprise the whole penalty, nor does it fall on all that are culpable in this offense against the tax unit that supports the schools. Innocent and guilty alike will have to pay some further penalty. The innocent ones are the citizens whose social unit may suffer from the unsocial acts of these ousted pupils, later in their lives. And their parents, who are contributors to culpability, undergo no direct penalty at all.—The Minneapolis Journal.

GOOD TIME TO GET READY

For some reason or other cold weather arouses thoughts of spring. Now that we have had a touch of real winter we can come a little nearer to realizing that real spring is only a short distance away. Up to the present cold spell this winter felt one with a sort of vague, empty feeling as though something anticipated each day had failed to materialize.

Since the anticipation has been fulfilled, though in delayed fashion, this is an excellent time to begin planning for spring planting. There are many new varieties of flowers to entice those who like to experiment. Water gardens are increasingly popular, and you may desire to install one this spring. The beauty of these is that they fit almost any amount of space. If room is limited a sunken-tub pool, with one or two water lilies, a few aquatic plants, and a pair of snails or a pair of goldfish adds an interesting touch to the home surroundings.

It requires considerable study to have a flower garden that will provide a continuous riot of bloom throughout the season, but it can be done through a wise selection of annuals and perennials. There are many who have completed their planning, some of them have seeds started indoors, but there is still ample time to get the preliminary work under way.

SAFE INVESTMENT FOR TIMID

Government bonds in denominations as low as $50, bearing 2 per cent interest, maturing in a year but redeemable if desired on 60 days' notice, are now on sale in local banks.

The government "baby bonds" bring back memories of the Liberty Bond drives of the war period.

There is, however, a big difference. During the war everyone was urged to buy Liberty Bonds. But the new "baby bonds" are intended especially for timid persons who have kept their money idle to the detriment of business and the country's welfare.

They have in the new government securities an opportunity to invest their money safely.

"If I Had a Million—"
A Man Feels Silly
She Looked Just Right

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I heard a man say, "If I had a million dollars—". The stars stood still, the bright rays of the moon froze in their progress to the earth, an owl ceased to hoot in the cold night air, a baby stopped crying, a policeman blew his whistle, and the world waited to hear what this one man would do if he had a million dollars. Hardly anything is more interesting than that.

I wrote that a man feels silly when he gets up from his chair, in company, and discovers that one trouser leg has caught on his garter. . . . A friend of mine says I'm wrong—a man feels silly when he takes off his overcoat in a theater and finds that he has pulled off his undercoat, took and betrayed his bright red suspenders to the entire, giggling world.

Once I read an article by a man on Things About Women That He Didn't Like. . . . Men are funny. The thing that irritated him most, he said, was the way women walk up the aisle of a theater and turn, when they reach the exit and look back to see how many people have been looking at them. . . . Do women do that?

One of the pleasantest passages in all literature is Robert Louis Stevenson's description of a night under the stars. It's in his "Travels With a Donkey" and it begins: "Night is a dead monotonous period under a roof, but in the open it passes lightly, with its stars and its dew and its perfumes."

In the morning, after that fair adventure, Stevenson scattered small coins along the trail in gratitude for his memorable lodging. Reminding us that the great majority of us try, as best we can, to pay for the pleasure we get from life.

I saw a young woman who looked just right. She wore a smile, a little green hat, a light brown fur coat, a green dress of the color of the hat.

She walked with a spring, you knew she was happy, and the color scheme of her outfit reminded me of the tall green-and-gold thistles you sometimes see in vacant lots down by the railroad track.

She looked just right, and she knew she did. That must be happiness.

"It's Chopin," she whispered back, reproachfully.

"Ah, well," he muttered, resignedly, "it sounds more like sawin' to me."—Music World.

Impressed by some "better business" literature, an English chemist in a market town placed several boxes of golf balls in his window. On next market day he found a countryman gazing at these globular exhibits with interest.

High up in a New York office building 18 draftsmen, all graduate civil engineers, toiled at their drawing boards, stopping occasionally to watch a man who washed the windows, strapped to the sill. One of the draftsmen, more curious than the others, went to the window and talked to the window washer. Then he addressed the crowd.

"Fellows, this wop on the window-sill is getting more money than any one of us—for washing windows. What do you know about that?"

"He's entitled to it," answered the oldest draftsman. "He swallowed his pride and took a chance. We're not willing to do either."

A traveling man put up one night in a cheap little hotel where the thin partitions of a range of bedrooms, like the stalls of a stable, stopped halfway to the ceiling. And in the still watches of the night he lay awake and listened to the finest demonstration of plain and fancy snoring that it had ever been his privilege to hear. It was full of sudden and awful variations. Sometimes stangulations seemed imminent; then, in the middle of fantasia, the agony stopped suddenly, and there was silence.

From a nearby stall he heard a voice exclaim wearily, "Thank God! He's dead!"

LADY WARRIORS
There are men of the neuter-gender type who can talk back to women and quarrel with them on terms of equality, but a regular he-man would rather start an argument with a rattlesnake and give it the first bite than to have a woman get mad at him.

A woman isn't handicapped by the rules of chivalry. Her ambition enables her to think up the exact words necessary to take your hide off, and she uses them without mercy in the comforting knowledge that you can't talk the same way to her. No matter what she says, the rules require you to remember your manners and return a soft answer.

But that isn't the worst of it. When an offended woman goes on the warpath, she doesn't confine her remarks to your ears. She tells the world what a heartless brute you are and does it in such a pathetic, poor-martyr tone of voice that few can doubt her.

And when she isn't telling about your meanness, she is thinking up hateful little tricks to annoy and irritate you and doing them so innocently that you would think them accidental if you didn't know better.

Whatever she does, you are helpless. If she instructs her children to throw rocks at you as you pass her house, you are expected to believe that the little innocents do it in a spirit of clean fun or maybe for the sake of the exercise, and if one of the brats sprains his arm in the process, you are expected to apologize for tempting him.

And they talk about sex equality!

Down in Lewiston, Maine, according to Arthur Staples, they once had a character called Henry. Henry was a good talker, a quiet drinker, and something of a radical. His particular theme was "dividing up all the money in the world among its inhabitants and making everyone happy."

He called it "levelin' of 'em up." One day Henry was only half elevated, broke, and consequently feeling pretty radical.

He explained his "level of 'em up" theory.

A bystander, a temperance man, saw an opportunity to puncture the argument and also to enforce a lesson.

"Henry, what would be the use," he asked, "if you got your share of all this money, you would spend it in a year, mostly on that which seems to do you nothing but harm. You know you would, don't you?"

"Probably I would," admitted Henry. "Probably I would."

"Well, then," said the exhorter, "what would you do the next year? Your money would have all passed into the hands of those money-grabbers, as you call them, and what would you do then?"

"What would I do then?" shouted Henry with a fine assumption of conviction and righteous indignation. "What would I do then? Why, sure, I'd level of 'em up again."

New Hampshire Democracy Aids Cause Of Roosevelt

Defeat Of Alfred E. Smith Impresses Public And Turns Attention To Prospects In Other States Where New York Governor Is Running

Encouragement for Franklin D. Roosevelt is found by the public in his successful fight for delegates to the National Convention in New Hampshire. The defeat of Alfred E. Smith is considered significant, especially in its bearing on what is described as the "stop-Roosevelt" movement.

"As an endorsement of Roosevelt's candidacy, it is in line with the manifest sentiment and judgment of the other great continents of the party, north, east, west and south," says the ATLANTA JOURNAL (DEM.). The BOSTON TRANSCRIPT (IND. REP.) sees, "in the background, the feeling that, whether or not Mr. Roosevelt is the ablest man the Democratic party could nominate, at the present outlook he would make the most efficient candidate against the Republican nominee."

The OMAHA WORLD-HERALD (IND. DEM.) declares: "There is no other Democrat that could have made the showing against Roosevelt in New Hampshire that Alfred E. Smith, lord of New England Democrats made. The result puts an end to the stories, so widely circulated here in the West, that Roosevelt could not be elected because the East would reject him."

"Unquestionably," in the opinion of the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS (DEM.), "Governor Roosevelt's victory lends much impetus to his campaign for the nomination, but he by no means assured of being the convention choice. With the number of favorite sons in the field, it is unlikely that he will go to the National Convention with enough pledged delegates to secure immediate victory."

The CHARLES RIVER (S. C.) EVENING POST (DEM.) however, feels that "the New York Governor's success in the first open trial with his predecessor and former friend is significant and has put new spirit into the Roosevelt candidacy, which has shown some signs of wilting during recent weeks."

"Numerically the victory is not important," thinks the NASHVILLE BANNER (IND.), "but as it marked the first skirmish of the pre-convention battle, the result will be constructed as having a distinct significance." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS (IND.) agrees that "it will give his followers in other States added confidence, inspire them to work harder for him, and help hold to his standard that part of the voters which likes to be on the side of the likeliest candidate."

The ALTOONA MIRROR (IND.) is convinced that it "will have a strong influence in his favor in other States."

Assuming also the effect of increased confidence the CHATTANOOGA TIMES (DEM.) adds: "Another effect has been to discount in the mind of the public the seriousness of the 'stop-Roosevelt' movement which is held by many to be the meaning of the Smith candidacy. Roosevelt supporters have been quick to assert that the movement is dying. Some are optimistic enough to believe it has been stopped."

"The result," according to the NEW ORLEANS TRIBUNE (IND. DEM.), "indicates that the Smith name lacked the magic to break the Roosevelt logjam that had already been pretty well formed in New Hampshire when Smith was elected. What the results might have been had Smith and Roosevelt entered the field at the same time, on equal terms, is not at all clear. The primaries, however, do clamp the New Hampshire delegates more strongly to Roosevelt than they were before."

The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL (IND.) agrees that it "will proclaim far and wide that the 'stop Roosevelt' movement has suffered a serious check. The BLOOMINGTON PANTAGRAPH (IND.) thinks that it "does not add to the strength of that movement."

Analyzing the New Hampshire record, the MANCHESTER LEADER (IND.) states: "The Manchester vote, while strongly for Smith, did not come up to expectations in size. The majority was impressive compared with the showing elsewhere, but nevertheless was short of the hopes entertained by the Smith leaders. Just how much the speech of Mayor Curley of Boston had to do with this aspect is uncertain, but an impression prevails that while he probably did not win any support for Roosevelt, he may have impelled many Democrats who favored Smith to stay away from the polls because they accepted his reasoning that Governor Smith was not a willing candidate."

"Without a doubt," suggests the SCRANTON TIMES (DEM.), "the Roosevelt supporters will stress the strength of their candidate with New Hampshire farmers as indicating a certain swing to him by rural voters in the middle and far west, which many observers say will be the real battle ground in the presidential campaign. The result in New Hampshire will give an impetus to the Roosevelt drive, particularly in the other New England states."

The BUFFALO EVENING NEWS (IND. REP.) concludes that "the 'stop-Roosevelt' effort merely stimulated him to a little more speed," and the CLEVELAND NEWS (REP.) thinks that "primary popularity is very likely to be interpreted by hopeful Democrats in terms of go-getting in the national campaign."

Mans Kills Wife, Commits Suicide In New Brighton

Tragedy Occurs As Estranged Couple Meet On Street

WOMAN HAD JUST LEFT CHURCH
As Wife Slumps Down, Man Fires Bullet Into His Brain

(International News Service)
NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Mar. 21.—Victims of jealous rage, the bodies of Edward Smiley, 36, and Margaret Smiley, 27, his estranged wife, lay side by side in death today brought together by a fusillade from Smiley's gun.

Enraged because his wife refused to return to him, Smiley shot and killed the woman as she returned from church services yesterday with little Polina, her 14-year-old sister.

After firing three bullets into his wife's body, Smiley waited the drum of his revolver and sent a bullet crashing into his own brain, dying almost instantly.

Smiley and his wife separated about a year ago, relatives of Mrs. Smiley said.

The couple had one child, a son.

Wilmington Choir To Give Cantata

Easter Cantata Will Be Given At United Presbyterian Church Wednesday

The choir of the United Presbyterian church of New Wilmington has again been augmented to forty voices and will sing Dudley Bucks Easter cantata, "The Story of the Cross" on Wednesday evening, March 23 at 8 o'clock in the United Presbyterian church, New Wilmington.

Soloists who will assist the chorus will be: Mrs. Madeline Rugh of New Castle; Dr. Hugh M. Hart, Dr. H. M. Black, Homer Dishong, Thomas Grenfell, Scott McMunn and William Frack, all of New Wilmington.

Those in the chorus are: Mrs. John Orr, Mrs. Rankin Johnston, Mrs. E. H. Freeman, Miss Corinne Mercer, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Miss Nandeen Love, Miss Mona Sowash, Ruthine Miller, Ruth Martin, Alice Freeman, Marian Ferver, Anna Barr, Margaret Weber, Clara Marie Weber, Thelma Edwards, Margaret Reese, Lillian Baird, Martha Hazlett, Mary Jane Stunkard, Elizabeth Macklin, Lois McGill, Lowenne Swindler, Catherine Freeman, Prof. Eldon Murray, Mr. Sears, Harold Vance, William Hamilton, Edwin Edmiston, Lawrence Skillen and Charles McCormick.

This chorus is being directed by Elizabeth Rose and the organ accompaniment will be played by Mrs. Albert Skillen, church organist. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this beautiful cantata.

this money as it does general revenues, or would it have to expend only the income from it.

This question Dr. Denison could not answer definitely. He said that he assumed that this money could be used as could any other money but until he put the matter before the department for a ruling that he would not give a definite answer.

"That question is one we have tried to get an answer on for six months," said W. W. Duff, a member of the board. "The only answer we have received from the department is indefinite just as you have stated."

Department Reluctant.

The department of public instruction is reluctant to see any board abandon departments of its schools," said Dr. Denison. "We believe that in times like these schools are vitally important. Boys and girls need that kind of instruction to help prepare them for future life. Education creates a larger demand for the finer things of life and the demand creates work. Abandoning such departments is a lowering of the standards of education and we trust that New Castle will be able to continue it. However we are not insensible to the fact that you have a problem upon your hands at the present time and we want to help you solve it as best we can."

Said President Daniel B. Woolcock, "this board is averse to closing any department of its schools, but we can only provide for as much education as we have money to pay for. Our citizens are unable to pay any increase in taxation, many are unable to pay what is already assessed. Hence it becomes imperative that we curtail our expenses and this we can do only by the curtailment of some of the departments."

The conference adjourned at 12:40. Dr. Denison will meet a committee of citizens tonight at 7:30 in one of the Senior high school rooms, prior to the meeting and will be at the meeting.

Eye-Witnesses In Killing Of Miner Will Give Details

State Demands Death Penalty For Nine Men Charged With Murder

WIFE OF SLAIN MINER IS CALLED

Uniontown Court Hearing Case, Nine Defendants May Go On Stand

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Mar. 21.—Eye-witnesses to the mine riot at Arnold City on June 23, when Mike Philopovich, a storekeeper, was killed and four others wounded, were to reveal details of the shooting to a jury of two women and 10 men in the trial of nine men charged with murder here today.

District Attorney Wade K. Newell, who has indicated he will demand the death penalty, has summoned Mrs. Mary Philopovich, widow of the slain man, as one of a score of witnesses, with this testimony he hopes to prove that the shooting was deliberate and premeditated.

"We hope to prove," the district attorney declared, "that John B. Yoder fired the shot which actually killed Philopovich but that the other defendants equally as guilty because they also fired."

It is expected that each of the nine men will take the stand in their own defense.

New Castle "Y" Wrestler Has Shoulder Blade Broken In Bout At Erie

Paul Alford, of County Line street, who had his shoulder blade broken in a "Y" wrestling match at Erie recently, has been admitted to the Jameson Memorial Hospital for treatment. Alford is the state champion in his weight, due to his unfortunate injury. He was ahead in the bout at Erie when his shoulder blade was cracked. He is getting along as well as can be expected.

Alford was a member of the New Castle "Y" wrestling team and one of the most popular members.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have, Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit, 15c, 30c and 60c.

Raskob Denies Bank Charges

Echoes Of 1928 Presidential Campaign Are Heard In Court

SUIT FILED TO COLLECT $20,000

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Accusations that the County Trust company accepted notes signed by dumplings in lending $200,000 to the campaign fund of former Governor Alfred E. Smith in 1928 were denied today by John J. Raskob, a director of the bank and chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Orie R. Kelly, president of the bank, likewise issued a denial of the charges made by Patrick F. Kenny, contractor, whom the bank is suing to collect a $20,000 note he signed. "Both as chairman of the Democratic national committee and as a director of the County Trust company, I know that the defense claimed against the Trust company by Mr. P. F. Kenny is entirely false," Raskob declared.

Smith Blameless
Kenny, answering the suit, contended he and six others signed notes aggregating $200,000 after being assured by the late J. J. Rioridan, then president of the bank, they would not be called upon to pay the notes.

He explained, however, Smith was entirely blameless in the affair, having no knowledge of the transaction at the time it was made.

The suit for $50,000 to collect that amount on a note signed by Tim J. Mara, one of those making up the $200,000 total, will be heard today in supreme court.

Anniversary Sermon At Emanuel Church

Rev. J. Finkbeiner Celebrates Forty Years Of Service With Same Sermon Theme

Forty years ago when Rev. J. Finkbeiner, present pastor of the Emanuel Evangelical church, South Jefferson street, addressed his first congregational at Kelly's Island, Ohio, he took as his sermon theme: "Praying for the Minister" and Sunday, he took this same theme and preached a sermon in commemoration of forty years as minister to the spiritual needs of his congregation.

At the 7:30 evening service he said in part: "I am taking as my text Eph. 6: 18, 19 'Praying for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel.' The ministry is the investment of life in the service of God. As I am growing older I come to the realization that what counts is not where, but how one has served. I have the satisfaction that I have been engaged for the past forty years in the greatest work entrusted to mortal man, which is not to carve a name, but to proclaim a message, the gospel message that I know myself; to interpret Christ as I know him."

I have ever kept in view the conversion of sinners as the great end of the Christian ministry.

I started in my preaching career, while yet a student, with this before my eyes, as the greatest purpose for which I entered the pulpit. "He who winneth souls is wise, and he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins."

As an ambassador sent by God Almighty, it is not my own calling, for I have my commission from God and the Church, and am therefore responsible for my actions, neglects, daily walk, conduct and influence. My work consists not in material things, and the supreme aim of my vocation is soul saving.

In our text today, Paul the great apostle asks for the help of his fellow Christians. His epistles are strewn with his desires and appeals for prayer. To him oftener than to any other, God appeared in dreams and visions saying, "Fear not, for I am with thee."

"And yet, this great man so richly favored and highly endured wrote, 'Pray for me.' During the past forty years, I have always had a faithful group, who I like to call my Assistant Pastors."

They are the Shut-ins, the afflicted, the aged, whose debtor I am for more than I can ever repay. They are not at the Church services, but they prove that God is not limited to houses made with hands. His presence with them is as real as any sun in any sky. God speaks to us through them, through their patience in suffering, and their intercessory prayers are as indispensable to me as my daily bread.

Strive To-gether Paul said in his epistle to the Romans, "Now I beseech you brethren, for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive to-gether with me in your prayers to God for me."

Through prayer we can make our pastor strong and mighty. Not only at the beginning of his pastorate, does he need the sympathy and the support of a praying people, but continually. Through earnest, constant prayer we can inspire a weak preacher to greater power and influence and create revivals that stir the whole community.

The minister is the most criticized man in public life. Very rightly we expect more of him than any other worker. His weakness and deficiencies are discussed in official board meetings, church social gatherings, in the home, club, store, factory, on the street, over the back yard fence, and elsewhere.

Is the minister entirely to blame for the ineffectiveness of your church. Before you decide this question think again of that which demands his time, thought and energy.

He must prepare and deliver sermons, addresses, lectures and talks. He must visit, write letters, reports, attend committee meetings, and conventions, conduct funeral services, and weddings. Then there are conferences with the discouraged, the sorrowing, the perplexed, the unemployed, and others. Besides these are the church officials, choir, janitor, book agents, and countless others who demand his time. Is it any wonder that he seems to be a faltering leader at times?

I am not surprised that, at times you feel that he ought to be "fired." However, shall he be "fired" out or up?

Let me suggest that you "fire" your minister in the proper manner.

ner, so that the greatest good may result. Why not return to the old fashioned custom of praying for him.

The Mystery Of The Gospel It is a great responsible task to make known the mystery of the Gospel; so great that we may well say with the apostle, "And who is sufficient for these things?"

The minister's first and last task is to exalt Christ and say with John the Baptist, "He must increase, but I must decrease," and thus lead people to the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world. It seems to me after I am dead and gone, I would rather have a man or woman, boy or girl drop a tear on my grave, and say, "Here lies the man who brought me to Jesus Christ." It seems to me I would rather have this than a column of pure gold reaching to the skies built in my honor. It is my earnest desire that in the future God will open unto us a door of utterance to speak the mystery of the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth.

Letters of congratulations were received from a number of the churches Mr. Finkbeiner has served and from friends, and a telegram of best wishes from the Altoona congregation reached him as he was in the pulpit.

There will be Passion Week services each evening this week at 7:30.

Rush Heavy At Relief Office

County Poor Bureau Gets Busy Start Today; New Demands Met

County welfare department attaches, headed by M. B. Hogue, the department's director, were faced with additional demands for relief when the office opened its door this morning.

The department recorded one of its busiest weeks last week, but today's requests indicated that this week would prove even busier. New names were added to the relief rolls. Trailing Director Hogue's announcement of the closing of the department-operated coal mine in the Croton district in April, came another statement concerning the welfare activities of the office.

Mr. Hogue said it would be necessary to discontinue the distribution of children's shoes on April 1. The county office's stock will likely last that long.

Free shoes have been provided at the office to needy children for school use since last October, but it was indicated that the operation of the shoe room could not be continued for long. School children in need of shoes now must apply to the office before April 1 and must present written orders from responsible folk.

"I couldn't estimate it off hand, but it would certainly be a surprise to most people," replied Director Hogue when asked as to the number of orders the shoe room has filled since it was opened last fall.

Mr. Hogue and his staff fit the children as they present their orders.

She has much territory yet to cover with her team of dogs before reaching a spot where she can see the ice go out on the Yukon.

Light Questions Before Council

Queries Of Citizen Are Answered By Councilmen At Session

COUNCIL EXPLAINS NEED FOR HASTE

Edward J. Davis, North Mill street, today appeared before council which met in the city building and requested information relative to the electric light contract entered into between the city and the Pennsylvania Power company now pending approval by the public service commission.

Council provided the information insofar as they were possible and relative to the reduction secured from the old contract which has been modified told Davis of the councilmen asking the power company for help immediately. As the reduction was granted no fight against the company was carried to the commission.

The question asked by Davis in substance follows:

1. As both parties concerned are located here why could it not be arranged for the public service commission to hold the hearing here March 29?

2. What power, if any, has the public service commission to change, suspend, reduce or raise rates; a contract already having been entered into as to rates?

3. Borough of Munhall has a contract in which there is a clause that, upon 30 days notice the contract can be changed or modified by either party. How about our contract?

4. Does council know if lights of the same class here are $15 cheaper in Butler; is it true that Youngstown is to enter into a contract for a lower light rate than New Castle has?

In reply to question No. 1, Mayor Mayne informed Mr. Davis he could not say whether or not the commission would hold a hearing here.

Solicitor White told Mr. Davis that the commission convenes each Monday at Harrisburg. He also said that hearings here have been conducted by public service commission examiners. White said it may be possible to have a hearing held here if it were requested. He said the city and company having entered into a contract the request properly should come from a protestant body.

In reply to question No. 2, concerning rates, Solicitor White said "you cannot contract for rates."

Council Hovland informed Mr. Davis as to the conference between the past council and present members who then were councilmembers relative to securing a lower cost of lights.

Councilman Hovland told Mr. Davis that the matter was so pressing that something had to be done. "We knew that when anyone goes before the commission it is impossible to say when a decision will be handed down."

For days we conferred and finally we needed help. We asked the company's officials for a special rate to which they agreed. The rate took effect immediately. If we went to the commission we would have to pay the old rate until the end of the contract," he said.

Mayor Mayne replied to question 3, stating council has signed a contract with the company in which "we get a reduction of $8,000. The contract has been presented to the commission." He said the new 5-3 rate would save consumers $14,000, approximately.

The answer to question 4 was not made because no councilman is in a position, it was indicated to say positively what the rate is. In the details of the conference here by which a cut was secured were reiterated.

Councilman Genkiner pointed out that a mill was cut from the tax levy for 1931 and also a mill from the 1932 tax levy.

At one time during the discussion between Davis and councilmen, C. C. Coulthard delivered an address to council. It termed with loyalty for the city, officials, industries and institutions here. He admonished everybody to broadcast that "New Castle stands together and is not divided." Coulthard said when it is hoped to win an industry here a committee of workmen should invite the plant to move here. His address was inspiring and came after he had explained that he is not connected with the electric company.

NOTES ON PIGEONS BEING PROBED IN LINDBERGH CASE

No additional information was available and the informant refused to identify the source of his information.

Later Col. Schwarzkopf revealed that the information came from South Kent, Conn.

The other pigeon clue was reported by Schwarzkopf in this manner: "Mrs. Charles E. Stein, Leighton, Pa., and Arthur L. Bond, of East Stroudsburg, Pa., brought to these headquarters a dead pigeon with a note folded and attached to the band of the pigeon's leg. The band bore the numbers A. U-30-5-34181, ACD the note read:

"Pulled off the job in the order. Made a clean getaway. No one even suspects me. Will meet you Monday as planned. Will have the dough with me. Yours, 'Red'."

The band is such as would not particularly indicate that this had anything to do with the Lindbergh kidnaping. However, the investigation is continuing to determine the exact meaning and significance of this communication."

Summary of Activity

The rest of Schwarzkopf's statement was a summary of the police activity of the past twenty four hours and continued nothing of a promising nature as far as leading toward a solution of the crime was concerned.

"Several people were interviewed at these headquarters yesterday purporting to have information concerning the case," the statement concluded. In each of these instances the information was offered in confidence, and this confidence will be respected. All of the information so received is now being investigated.

"Following a telephonic communication with Jersey City, we find that Henry Johnson (sister of Betty Gow, the Lindbergh baby nurse) is still in custody of Jersey City police and has been there continuously since his return to the Jersey city authorities last night. Indications are that he is about to be turned over to the federal immigration authorities."

"Investigators are out all over the state following up information received and no reports are available as yet from any of them."

Faint Clues Remain

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 21.—Only faint traces and clues that appeared to hold slim encouragement for success remained today as police pursued their determined 20-day search for the kidnapers of the infant son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Despite fresh reports from many sections, including Mexico, that children resembling the stolen baby were seen, and persistent investigation of several suspicious persons, police activity seemed at its quietest today since Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., was snatched from the nursery of his parents home near Hopewell, N. J., March 1.

Henry "Red" Johnson, sister of Betty Gow, Lindbergh nursemaid, was returned from the Lindbergh home where he had been questioned since Saturday morning.

Little valuable information was obtained from him, police announced. It was reported Johnson was brought to Hopewell at Lindbergh's own request.

Johnson Returned

"Henry Johnson has been returned to Jersey City police authorities," Superintendent H. Norman Schwarzkopf, said in his latest bulletin.

"He was questioned and his statement was compared with those he had made previously and also with the statements of others but no information of consequence in this case, in addition to the other statements, was discovered."

Johnson is held for federal authorities, Jersey police announced, on charges of entering this country illegally.

Schwarzkopf denied knowledge of a report a note referring to the abduction and mentioning Johnson's name was found fastened to the leg of a dead bird picked up by Leroy Bond, in Broadheads, Pa.

The message was said to have been sent to the Hopewell investigators.

Miss Theresa Dersi, Wertsville, N. Y., unemployed stenographer who previously told of seeing a suspicious group in a stalled automobile a few hours before the kidnaping, "offered nothing of importance" to the case when interviewed again, Schwarzkopf declared.

He said he had not been informed whether she identified as one occupant of the car a man whose picture she saw at the rogu's gallery in New York.

No Connection With Case Schwarzkopf declared John Baldwin, held on suspicion of seeking to kidnap a child in the home of J. Seward Johnson, at Highland Park, had no connection with the Lindbergh case.

A sedan containing three men, one of them with fresh cuts showing on his face, dashed up to the Lindbergh estate under escort of a motorcycle police squad. No report on this visit of the Lindbergh home was forthcoming.

Four babies, two of which resembled the missing Lindbergh baby "remarkably," were examined by investigators, Schwarzkopf declared, in each case, investigators soon learned it to be not the missing baby.

Numerous telephone messages telling of young children believed to look like Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., were received by his parents in the past few days.

Both Colonel Lindbergh and his wife, answering these calls from near and far, pointedly requested details, descriptions of the children reported. "Through the absence of certain definite identifying marks their baby possesses, they were unable to establish the child involved in each case was not theirs."

Dispatch From Mexico

One dispatch from Juarez, Mexico, stated an American woman was seen to cross the International bridge from El Paso, Texas, with a child resembling the Lindbergh infant. Police were asked to look for her.

Basement Rooms Being Considered At Court House

County Commissioners Looking Into Proposition For Additional Space

While no definite conclusions have been reached by the county commissioners on the proposition of diggin out the basement of the court house to make additional room, the matter is being given careful consideration.

If the work is undertaken it is probable that an excavation five or six feet wide will be made along the entire north side of the court house, to the depth of the basement. This would permit the installation of full sized windows, and would give plenty of light and air. There would also be steps leading down from the outside to a doorway, as well as an inside stairway. The inside stairway would probably be located toward the front of the building.

The basement would provide ample room for all the surplus records in the court house for many years to come. It would eliminate the

Auto Injuries Cause Of Trial

Case Of Arthur Miskolczi Against Loyal Wellar In On Trial

When court convened this morning the case of the commonwealth against Loyal Wellar, charged with assault and battery by automobile, was taken up for trial in court before Judge R. L. Hildebrand.

The case resulted from an automobile accident over a year ago in which Arthur Miskolczi, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Miskolczi, had one leg badly crushed.

According to the story told by Arthur he had been to Sunday school at Ellport, and was returning home with a number of other children. Near the Clover Leaf store on the Ellwood-Wurtemburg road, he attempted to cross the road.

Before doing so he looked both ways and saw a car approaching from the direction of Ellwood. He waited until the car passed and then started to run across the street, being struck by the car of Loyal Wellar, which was going in an opposite direction. After the accident Wellar took the boy to the Ellwood City hospital where he was laid up for five months.

Wellar claims that the boy ran out from behind the car which had passed and that he did not see him in time to avoid the accident.

continual complaint about the lack of room.

The advantage of doing the work at this time is that it would enable the commissioners to furnish work to many who are now being helped by the county. An experienced contractor would be needed to direct the work, but there are all kinds of mechanics and laboring men available on the county's list.

In addition to providing record room, a private room for the county commissioners in which to hold meetings, could be partitioned off, and this would eliminate the proposed removal of the county superintendent of school, thereby saving the county $600 a year. It is probable that an office for the district attorney could also be provided, which would save the rent which is now being paid by the county for the district attorney's rooms.

Public Wedding Occurs At Show

New Galilee And New Brighton Couple Principals In Food Show Ceremony

SHOW CONCLUDES SUCCESSFUL WEEK

Third and most successful food show and home beautiful exhibition of the New Castle Retail Grocers Association, came to a close Saturday evening with a crowd that filled the Shenango Motor Company building, in which the affair was held.

Featuring the final evening's session of the affair was a wedding before the immense crowd on the platform of the food show department of a well known young man and woman, whose identity did not become known until the ceremony was performed at 10:30 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Willis of the United Presbyterian church at New Galilee. The principals in the wedding were Miss Blanche E. Baker, daughter of Mrs. O. C. Baker of New Galilee, and Robert A. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Moore of New Brighton, a well known employee of the National Biscuit company. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cory of New Brighton were best man and bridesmaid. On the platform with the bridal party were Mayor Charles B. Mayne, Prothonotary R. M. Campbell, C. Everett Anderson, president of the Grocers Association, Frank W. Hill, secretary of the association, a representative of The News and E. E. Branstetter, who played the wedding march.

The bride was attractively attired in a blue lace effect dress and carried a large bouquet of flowers. The ring ceremony was used. After the ceremony, the bride cut one of the wedding cakes presented to her, presenting a piece to the Mayor and Prothonotary Campbell. Secretary Hill then assumed charge and auctioned off pieces of the cake securing twenty dollars for the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore received more than forty gifts of useful household articles, groceries and other articles.

too numerous to mention. As the bridal party was about to leave for a local restaurant for a wedding dinner, Dick O'Brien sang "I Love You Truly."

Those fortunate in winning baskets of groceries Saturday evening were: Lena Mae McConnell, 817 West North street, who drew the numbers, Felix Mille, Reynolds street; Sophie Gierlock, 35 Maple street; Bill Warnock, 9 East Laurel avenue; Eva Stewart, East Washington street; Gertrude Lundy, R. Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves
It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonard's prescription—HEM-ROID—to end itching, bleeding, protruding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts and removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and cutting fail. Eckert's Cut Rat and New Castle Drug Co. says HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile misery or money back.

Colored People To Present Show For Mayor's Relief

Prepare To Put On Interesting Program At High School On April 1

Colored people of the city anxious to aid in the relief work being carried on by the Mayor's Relief Committee and also to have an opportunity of presenting to the public of this city in a big way, some of the real talent that the members of the race possess, are practicing faithful for the show to be presented by them for the benefit of the Children's Division of the Mayor's Relief Committee at the High School Auditorium on the evening of Friday, April 1.

Those active in preparing for this big event are Earl Brown, who is general director, stage manager and dance instructor; Arthur Thomas, assistant general director, director of the music; Mrs. Betty Thomas, in charge of the ladies' wardrobe; Kenneth Bailey, in charge of the men's wardrobe; Eleanor Marks, pianist, accompanist and singing and dancing instructor. All these people have had experience in entertainment work. Arthur Thomas, music director, has been leader of several fine jazz bands in the past ten years. The orchestra will consist of eight pieces and will be made up of members of an orchestra directed by Hubert Mann.

Fire Originates In An Old Vest

Frank W. Hill, 417 Martin street, secretary of the New Castle Retail Grocers Association, remarked that the recent page report in The News, of a fire starting in a man's coat reminded him of his own experience about two weeks ago.

It was about six o'clock in the morning, when his wife awakened him and told him there was something burning in the house. He could smell the fumes arising from a fire and went downstairs and all over the house hunting the fire.

Finally he returned to the bedroom and found the fire in a clothes closet there. It was in the vest of a suit, that he had not worn for six or eight months and had apparently started by spontaneous combustion from some old rubber bands and matches in a pocket of the vest. The suit was ruined. He put out the fire and did not find it necessary to call the firemen.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

There are two names that stand out when the pioneers in the pop or soft drink manufacturing business in this city is considered and it is necessary to go back something like sixty years to see the inception of this business here. It was approximately sixty years ago, when the late David Dickey, father of Attorney T. W. Dickey started up in the business of making soft drinks. To show the extent in which he was a pioneer in the business, it can be said that at the time he took up this business here, he was the only manufacturer of soft drinks between Pittsburgh and Erie. Mr. Dickey wholesaled his product here and in the surrounding district and for that purpose had a wagon and two horses, which he used in the distribution of his product. It was three years ago, when the late William A. Mayne, father of Mayor Charles B. Mayne purchased the business from Mr. Dickey and continued it in during his lifetime. Naturally the mayor became interested in the business which has been continued until the present day, when it is known as the Lawrence Bottling Works. There is quite a step from the beginning of this business in this city until the present day as represented by the Lawrence Bottling Works.

UNION MEETINGS CONTINUE
Special union church services which are being held in the Methodist church will be continued in the Presbyterian church each evening this week at 7:30 p. m.

DR. CAMPBELL SPEAKS
Dr. Ralph Campbell gave a very instructive and interesting talk at the P. T. A. meet on Monday evening. There was not as large an attendance as usual on account of so much sickness and the cold weather.

VOLANT NOTES
Rev. H. H. Thompson who has been ill with grip is able to be up. Mrs. Roy Litzberg who has been confined in the Jamison hospital for the past 10 days is improving and expects to be home soon.

G. A. Boyd and F. R. Weisz of Princeton were callers at the home of C. L. Hunt on Tuesday.

Warren Wilkin, Jr., has been ill with tonsillitis.

C. S. Beatty of Niles was a visitor at his home here on Monday.

Miss Charlotte Daniels of New Castle spent a few days at her home here the first of the week.

Mrs. Raymond Sholler and little daughter, Leesburg spent Thursday with Mrs. Fred Sholler.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Cooper and daughter, Ruth, attended a party in New Castle on Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Cooper's mother, Mrs. Sarah Potter, celebrating Mrs. Potter's birthday.

Unusual in these times is that 72 hours after the death of a gorilla in the Washington Zoo, no application had been received at the White House for the vacancy.—The Detroit News.

Golf Advisory Committee Reports To City Council

Municipal golf advisory committee consisting of H. B. Richards, L. B. Round and D. B. Woolcock have submitted a report of the committee for the year 1931 to city council which will be published in the city's annual report.

The only recommendation made for 1932 is that there be installed a softening outfit for well water which is used for shower baths and other purposes around the club house at the golf course.

The committee reported that the water is of 222 PPM hardness which they explain is exceedingly hard for the purposes mentioned and results in the blocking of pipes in the hot water heater and other lines. The 1931 rates were: Season tickets $15.00; all day play, $1.00; 18 holes, $0.75; 9 holes, $0.50; locker rent, $2.50 a season; soap and towels, five cents and free use of the shower baths.

Effective August 10, 1931, the rates were changed so that, on four days of a week, providing the players started before 5 p. m. a golfer could play nine holes for 25 cents.

This decreased the revenue, the committee reported but it made it possible for many to play golf. The number who played totaled 31,689 and the gross revenue was $11,608.47.

The gross receipts for 1931 was about $1,200 less than the preceding year. However, the report states that the total operating expense for 1931 was about $5,000 less than for 1930. This was due to the city not having had to buy machinery as this had been purchased the preceding year.

PENSION INCREASE ASKED FOR WIDOW

An increase in the federal pension of Mrs. George Y. Powell, R. F. D. 4, New Castle, is sought in a bill introduced into the House of Representatives at Washington by Representative J. Howard Swick. Mrs. Powell is the widow of the late Elijah D. Powell who served with the old Roundhead Regiment. Her monthly pension would be increased from forty to fifty dollars through approval of the Swick bill.

The note of a bell depends upon its weight.

Local Cases In Supreme Court

Arguments Being Heard At Pittsburgh In Three Appeals From This County

Three cases taken up from Lawrence county are to be argued in supreme court which convenes at Pittsburgh today.

One of the cases is that of Helen Graham against the United States Fidelity company, in which Miss Graham was awarded a verdict, amounting to around $3000. Miss Graham was injured in an automobile accident on the Wilmington road while out riding with Dr. C. E. Ahlquist. Dr. Ahlquist carried insurance in the Fidelity company, which took an appeal following the verdict.

Another case is that of Mrs. Noah Elliott against Herb D. McGoun. This case grows out of a dispute over the proceeds of an insurance policy, which Noah Elliott has assigned to McGoun. One of the questions involved is, whether McGoun had an insurable interest in Elliott, and also even if he did not have an insurable interest, the assignment would not have been valid. The third case is that of G. C. Heberling company against Wakefield, growing out of an alleged debt.

LEESBURG NEWS

Leora Douglass is visiting relatives in Pittsburgh.

Harry Sheaff of plaingrove is visiting his daughter Mrs. Frank Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Burton and family of Grove City were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Orr.

Douglass, Mrs. Ralph Cunningham, Mrs. Dewey McConnell, Mrs. Bert Black, Mrs. Whited, Misses Pearl Collins, Lena Orr, Gertrude Brenneman and Alice Oakes. Mrs. Jack Haynes was a guest. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Douglass, March 31st.

Grease goes—dishes shine

Millions wash them this easy way

YOU KNOW what a work-saver Rinso is on washday—how it gets clothes much whiter and brighter without scrubbing or boiling.

Well, it's just as wonderful for dish-washing! Grease soaks off by itself in thick, creamy suds. Just soak your china and glassware for a few minutes—rinse in hot water—and let them drain dry. Wash greasy pots and pans this easy way, too.

And Rinso is economical, too. Granulated, compact—it gives twice as much suds, cup for cup, as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. Rich, creamy, active suds, even in hardest water. No grit.

Use Rinso for tubs, basins, floors, woodwork. Get the BIG package.

Plan To Resume Highway Fill At Conneaut Marsh

Highway Department Orders Early Resumption Of Work After Year's Delay

TRESTLE WILL BE BUILT OVER SWAMP

HARRISBURG, Mar. 21.—Resumption of filling operations at the Conneaut marsh near Geneva, to complete the Perry Highway, have been ordered by Secretary of Highways, Samuel S. Lewis, it was announced here today.

Filling operations were halted in mid-summer last year at the instance of Governor Pinchot, when it was apparent that little headway was being made in the establishment of a permanent grade across the swamp.

Thousands of yards of earth had been hauled to the swamp and dumped into it in an effort to compact the road across the morass. Two small hills near the scene having been completely leveled in the operations. Three engineers, C. A. Burn of the New Jersey Highway Department, Charles F. Boehler of the Michigan State Highway Department, and P. R. Lavin, chief engineer of the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad after making tests, recommended the resumption of the task.

The road has been completed to either end of the swamp. It is now planned to put in approximately 50,000 yards more of earth, and to construct a trestle about 200 feet long, following the same procedure as the Bessemer railroad. After the trestle has been completed, earth will be dumped underneath, so that a permanent foundation will be secured.

The trestle will be in two sections, one on the north side of the present concrete bridge, 83 feet in length, and the other at the south end of the bridge, 124 feet long. Each will be thirty feet wide, with a sidewalk along the east side.

Approximately 1,600 feet of road-

STOP THAT COLD

DISTRESSING cold in chest or throat—that so often leads to something serious—generally responds to good old Musterole with the first application. Should be more effective if used once every hour for five hours.

This famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. Musterole gets action because it is a scientific "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Will Be Manager Of Conference At New Wilmington

WILLIAM TURNBULL

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 21.—William T. Turnbull, Elizabeth, a second-year student in the Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary, has been appointed manager of the New Wilmington Missionary conference which will be held at Westminster college from August 5 to August 12 this summer.

Mr. Turnbull, a graduate of Westminster with the class of 1930, acted as assistant manager of the conference for the last two years. Donald McClure, Blairsville, who returned last year to the seminary following a teaching position in the foreign mission field, will act as assistant manager for Mr. Turnbull.

Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, new president of Westminster, will be one of the speakers on the program during the summer conference. Dr. Galbreath will conduct the adult Bible hour.

Old Date Cut In Rock At River Camp

Local Man Believes It May Throw Light On Washington's Trip

J. W. Whitte, of 517 West North street, who owns a camp on the Allegheny river, four miles above Emmenton, believes that a rock there bearing the date 1753 cut deeply into it, may throw some light on the journey of Washington through this district.

The rock is near the camp, where he and his family have been going to spend their summers for the past ten years. The territory there is rather wild and unsettled, the rock in question standing high above the river. He believes it may have been placed there as a trail marker.

It was the year 1753 that Washington made his trip from Pittsburgh to Fort Le Boeuf, and Mr. Whitte believes the initials may have been cut into the rock, either on the journey to or from Fort Le Boeuf.

SICK FOR SIX YEARS—WELL IN SIX WEEKS

How Happiness Came Again To Despondent and Homesick Silesian Lady

"There must be something in this climate that makes me feel so much better," said Mrs. P. A. Vlachos of Rochester, Pa., who was born in Silesia, Poland, and came to Western Pennsylvania just before the World War. "I always enjoyed the best of health in the old country, and my two children born there are as husky as anybody would want to be. But when we came here my troubles began. Instead of the clear sky, we looked out morning after morning on a sea of fog and in the winter we might say to bed in balmy weather and wake up in the morning in a blizzard. These sudden changes gave me colds that grew into an annoying case of catarrh.

"Nor did the food ever have taste just right. I used to prepare the old world dishes just as I did abroad, yet they were tasteless to me. My stomach became so finicky that I dared not eat a real meal, and my digestion was poor with the little I did eat. But my worst troubles were those peculiar to my sex. Delays, with severe pains, hot flashes over my body and colds that grew into an annoying case of catarrh.

"After my fourth child was weaned my troubles appeared to reach a climax. I was sick most of the time, dizzy, in pain, and weak as could be. Sharp pains would shoot through my head, and noises nearly drove me crazy. It was torturous to go out with the family in the automobile, and I wanted to be let alone. My stomach grew worse and worse. I was growing very weak. To add to my troubles, I got very homesick. I thought I could go back to the old country I would get well, and my man and I were both miserable, because we would not be able to get on our feet. "At this time we heard of World's Tonic, which we were told was a wonder coming from different parts of the world. I began taking it, and it made me think of some of the medicines I had taken in the home land. But its results were so remarkable that I knew it was better than anything we got over there. In six weeks I was well. The catarrh cleared up, which cleared up my skin from the yellow, muddy color. The bad constipation that had worried me so long was gone and my whole body was purified. Troubles disappeared, my looks greatly improved, and happiness came again. This good medicine needed only six weeks to relieve me of six years or more of illness." World's Tonic can be obtained of E. K. McKee, McKee's Silesian's or at any other first class drug store. (11-42.)

Surplus Wheat Plan Blocked

Farm Bloc Fights Administration's Plans For Financing Deals

SENATOR NORRIS MAKES STATEMENT

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—The administration's latest plan for disposing of the farm board's surplus wheat and cotton, by appropriating $100,000,000 to finance long time credit deals in the foreign market, is being blocked today as a bi-partisan farm bloc organized to defeat it.

The farm bloc may favor extended credit sales of wheat and cotton, but not at the expense of using appropriations set aside for the relief of agriculture. The administration plan would utilize $100,000,000 from the $200,000,000 given the Reconstruction Finance corporation to aid farmers. This use of relief funds brought attacks on the plan.

Depletion of Funds. "I have not studied the proposal," said Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, "but at first blush it looks like a depletion of the funds set aside for the relief of farmers in distress."

Senator Smith (D) of South Carolina also opposed the plan. He said the proposal would "have the effect of smashing the wheat and cotton markets" by encouraging increased production.

The credit plan was sponsored by Secretary of Agriculture Charles C. Stone of the Federal Farm Board. Stone insisted the board could finance no more long time credit deals because of a depleted treasury.

Stone denied the board intended any "dumping operations." He declared it would continue to limit its sales of holdover wheat to 5,000,000 bushels a month. He called it the "orderly way" of marketing the surplus.

FARRELL SCHOOL BOARD DROPS FOUR TEACHERS

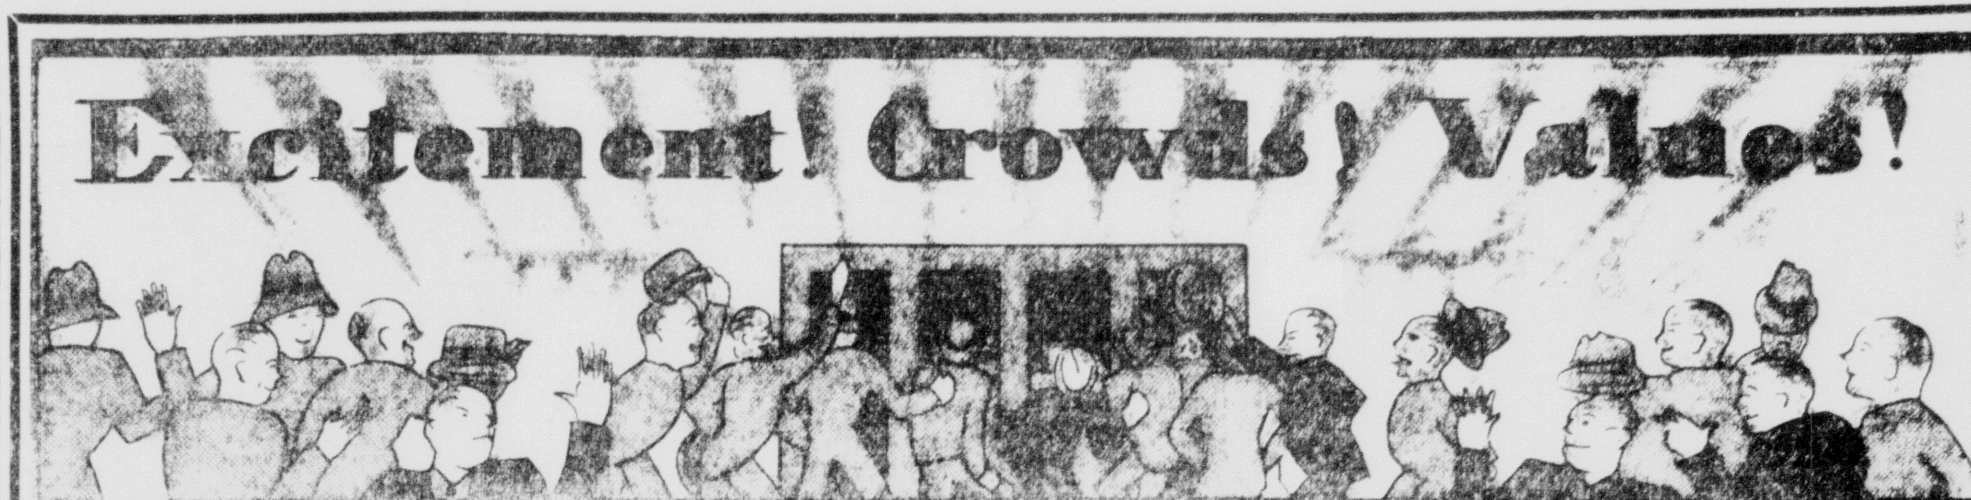

FARRELL, Pa., Mar. 21.—Professor W. W. Irwin, superintendent of schools, today announced that four high school faculty positions will be eliminated at the close of the present school year. They are sewing, domestic science and two manual training positions. The action, taken as an economy measure, will save the school district approximately $7,500 a year.

Man Is Rescued In Swamp After All Night Vigil

Charles W. Brown, 31, Berlin, Maryland, Undergoes Weird Experience

(International News Service) BERLIN, Md., Mar. 21.—Rescued from Holly Grove swamp when his abductors manacled him with chains to a tree and left him overnight, Charles W. Brown, 31, said police today in the hunt for his brutal kidnappers.

Near exhaustion from hunger and exposure, Brown was saved by Edward Taylor, farm hand, who with a sled hammer and chisel knocked off the fetters that bound Brown.

Brown told police he was waylaid and kidnapped by four masked men last Tuesday at Evergreen Woods.

Before he was bound and blindfolded by the abductors, he said, he fought with them and succeeded in ripping off the mask of one of his assailants. He declared he recognized a well known citizen of Worcester county.

Brown was taken to a cellar, he said, where he was shackled to ring bolts in the wall by heavy chains.

After several days, he was taken to the swamp and lashed to the tree.

Police believed some agents of a local enemy of Brown were responsible for the plot.

CITY COUNCIL MAY PROVIDE $500,000

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 21.—Leads-ers of welfare groups and unemployment relief today looked anxiously for a means of realizing new funds to save 28,000 families in Allegheny county from foreclosed "desperate" want.

Prospect of an emergency apporportion of $500,000 from city council to carry forward relief work was the only bright spot in the horizon.
Welfare leaders declared.

Unless the appropriation is made,
it was indicated, relief work now being carried forward will have to be curtailed and may be stopped completely.

Because of vanishing funds, the Allegheny County Emergency Assocation today prepared to discontinue the public works program it has been paying for in the city. The program will be dropped entirely
Wednesday association heads said.
Unemployment funds are found to

LITTLE BEAVER

CLASS PARTY

Mrs. E. D. Jackson delightfully entertained the Wo-He-Lo class of the Presbyterian Sunday School in her home Thursday evening.

Election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Alma Plizer.
Vice President—Olive Moore.
Secretary—Katherine Kale.
Treasurer—Eleanor Riggie.
Teacher—Virginia Steinecke.

The report on the drive for new members was pleasing as four new members were reported and were special guests for the evening.

Twenty-three were present and after plans for future activities of the class were discussed the meeting adjourned and an enjoyable social hour followed.

Miss Mildred Young was the winner in the "Wedding Contest." Various games were played during the evening. Music was led by Miss Elsie Trudal and Marie Moore, who were special guests. At a suitable time small tables were arranged and delicious refreshments were served with tones of green and yellow prevailing. The hostess was assisted by Virginia Steinecke, Katherine Kale and Evelyn Coblenz.

GRAB BAG
How much does it cost the government to deport an alien?

Does the human heart ever rest?

Are all vocal cords of the same length and thickness?

Correctly Speaking—
"Contemplate" should not be combined with a preposition. Say "He contemplated a trip to Alaska." Not

"He contemplated on a trip to Alaska."

Today's Anniversary
On this day, in 1685, Johann Sebastian Bach, German musician and composer, was born.

Today's Horoscope
Persons born on this day like good living and plenty of it, and although they can come down to close ration-ness.

Answers to Foregoing Questions
1. The average per capita cost in deporting aliens is $30.55.
2. The heart rests between beats, about eight-tenths of a second elapsing between the contractions, which are approximately one-tenth of a second in length.
3. They vary in length and thickness.

Y. W. C. A. Holds "Jim Jam" On Saturday Night

Colored Girl Is Held To Face Shooting Charge—Parents Not Badly Hurt

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 21.—Irene Miller, colored, of this city is lodged in the County Jail at New Castle on charges of felonious pointing and shooting of fire arms, after allegedly shooting her mother, Mrs. Lucile Brown and step father, John Brown, at their home Saturday evening on Lawrence avenue.

Both of the victims of the shooting were taken to the local hospital where it was found that Mrs. Brown was shot in the right hip and the step father in the left leg. The injuries were not serious and after being properly dressed by physicians, both were discharged from the hospital.

The shooting resulted in a quarrel in which the three figured. When the argument got to a more bitter stage, the daughter snatched a 12 gauge shot gun and pointed it at her parents. In the ensuing scuffle for possession of the weapon, it went off, shooting both of them.

A preliminary hearing will be given the girl some time this week at the office of Justice of the Peace J. E. VanGorder of this city.

Auto Accident Causes Arrest

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 21.—L. D. Holsburg, of 259 North street, Warren, Pa., was arrested on charges of reckless driving by Highway Patrolman Stevens on Sunday evening about 8:45 after an accident.

Holsburg and his wife were heading for their home in Warren via Ellwood City. Upon approaching the old Harmony railroad crossing at Frisco, the driver, Holsburg, suddenly jammed on his brakes, causing the car to swerve and turn over, according to the officers. The wheels were suspended in mid-air.

Mr. and Mrs. Holsburg escaped serious injury. They were able to answer the questions of Highway Patrolman Stevens and were later taken to an office of a local doctor by passing motorists. Each received a few minor cuts and bruises. Mr. Holsburg gave a forfeit pending his appearance at a hearing of Alderman D. D. Gavins' office, Beaver Falls on Tuesday.

Ruth Croft Is Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 21.—Miss Ruth Croft delightfully entertained several young friends at her home on Wood street on Saturday evening.

The guests thoroughly enjoyed the affair around the two tables of cards at play and dancing. At a later hour the hostess assisted by her mother served delicious refreshments, much to the pleasure of the present.

The guest list included the Misses Jane Stevenson, Doris Morris, Doris Hill, Lucille Jackson, Margaret Stewart, Margaret Magee, Eleanor Wilson and Betty Stewart.

Say Goodby to Sick Headaches

You need not have any more sick headaches.

Just take a tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin before meals. No sedatives. No bicarbonate of soda. No habit-forming drugs of any kind.

By putting your stomach in order—by keeping it running smoothly—Dare's effectively prevents the recurrence of sick headaches and bilious attacks.

Revival At Church Of God Attracts Fine Crowd Sunday

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 21.—The first day of the revival campaign of the Church of God made a decided impression upon the people attending on Sunday.

A capacity crowd heard two excellent solos by Samuels Burrows of this city at the evening services. Also the ladies' quartet rendered a special number.

The evangelist, Mrs. Sylvia E. Cusick, in a gripping manner gave a message on repentance. It was announced that on Friday night Mrs. Cusick will give her life story.

Confirmation At Lutheran Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 21.—Yesterday, being Palm Sunday, was also Confirmation Sunday in Trinity Lutheran church. Fourteen young people, who had throughout the past winter received instruction in the Christian religion, were solemnly confirmed by the pastor of the church, the Rev. C. F. Christiansen. A sermon, based on Hebrews 13:9, and admonished the young people to be steady in their faith and the practice of their religion, was addressed to the Confirmation class and the congregation.

Following that a brief examination was conducted on the teachings of the church and the meaning and importance of the Christian religion, and then the class was received into membership of the church by the solemn rite of Confirmation. The young people are: Dorothy Bauer, Alice Lindgren, Gertrude Christiansen, Margaret McDonald Whitman, Mary Jane Scheidemann, Matilda Drotteff, Fred Losch, Daniel Ifft, Kenneth Ifft, Ralph Richards, William Bell, Fred Bender, Lloyd Miesel, and Lee Whitmire, Jr.

Auto Crashes Into Loaded Milk Truck
Driver Of Ohio License Car Makes His Getaway Before Officers Arrive

Milk truck of Floyd Cotton of the Frew Mill road was backing out of the Graziani store, Butler avenue, Sunday morning about 10 o'clock when a car bearing Ohio license 979-260 came west on Butler avenue at a fast rate of speed and struck the milk truck, overturning it, causing a big loss in bottles and milk and badly damaging the truck.

Driver of the Ohio license car acted suspiciously, according to the report made to the police and seemed in a hurry to get away before an officer arrived. He is alleged to have been drinking and to have disposed of a bottle of liquor before driving off, after giving his license number to the driver of the milk truck.

The police have looked up the Ohio number and find that it was issued to Ed R. Vrier of Martins Ferry, O. It is probable that he will be asked to come back here to explain.

Ellwood Tax Rate Will Be 10 Mills

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 21.—After some serious consideration and discussion the Borough council of Ellwood City at a special meeting held in the Borough building Friday evening, set the tax millage at 10 mills which was an ordinance passed on the first and final reading. The new millage for this year.

At their meeting last Friday, council also passed on the first reading an ordinance providing for the punishment of anyone apprehended in stealing electric current. After an investigation it was found that people have been tampering with the electric wires and meters to obtain free current. The penalty for this action was set at $100 or jail term.

Work on repairing the garbage plant will soon proceed it was announced. The health committee recommended that the proper repairs should be made under the supervision of the Borough Manager, Lowell W. Monroe.

A request for a fire plug in the South Ellwood Heights was referred to the fire and water committee. The expected report on the playground situation from the Rules and Regulation and Police committees did not materialize at this time. A plea was made at council's regular meeting not to reduce the playground appropriation.

Employment Cards Can Be Mailed As Postals With Stamp

Blank Space On Back Of Card May Be Utilized For Addressing Missive

According to information given to E. W. Beadel, chairman of the city committee in the American Legion employment campaign, the cards which are being distributed to residents of the city can be returned to the American Legion Employment Bureau through the mail the same as a postal card.

All that will be necessary for the person returning the card to write the address, "American Legion Employment Bureau, New Castle, Pa." on the back of the card and affix one and one half or two cents postage.

The card is larger than the regular post card, necessitating the extra postage.

The above procedure will eliminate the bother of putting the card in an envelope to mail it and it is believed will be a convenience appreciated by residents.

Scouting Planes Go To Rescue Of St. Louis Airman

St. Louis Pilot With Woman Passenger Believed Lost In Ohio

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 21.—Scouting planes took off from Bettis field here shortly after 11 a. m. today in search for an eastbound Northrup Lines airplane believed forced down between here and Cambridge, O.

The plane, piloted by Hal George and carrying one passenger, Mrs. Carl F. Cole, wife of a St. Louis physician, was due at Bettis field at 2:45 a. m. today airport officials said.

Last heard from the missing plane, Bettis field attaches said, was a radio telephone call from the pilot at 2:38 a. m. today when he asked about weather conditions at the field here. The plane was found east from St. Louis.

Rain and snow over this area made flying difficult, pilots reported.

ONLY ONE JUROR PRESENTS EXCUSE
Mrs. Sarah Horton, of the Sixth ward, was the only juror called for this week's session of court who asked to be excused. She gave as a reason illness in the family. Usually there are from half a dozen to a dozen jurors who want to be excused, but in these days of unemployment, jury duty looks good to most everybody.

Harper And Ross Cars Come Together At Grant And Jefferson Streets

Advised at 4:15 o'clock Sunday morning that there had been a bad accident at North Jefferson and Grant streets, Officers Carl Lockard and George Kennedy, rushed to the place in a city car and found that Officer U. G. Harper had been injured quite severely, when his car crashed with that of Gill B. Ross of 831 Croton avenue, both machines being upset and badly damaged.

Ross could not be found at the time and was later located at his home and went to the police station and made a report. Officer Lockard took Officer Harper to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was found to be suffering with injuries of the breast, back and side. His injuries are painful but not considered serious and he was able to return to his home last night.

According to the report of Mr. Ross, he was enroute east on Grant

Allege Attempt To Fire Building

Firemen Find Bucket Of Oil Blazing In Weinberg Alley Structure

An attempt to set fire to a building at 17 Weinberg alley, owned by Charley Jimm, is alleged by Assistant Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman. The fire occurred Saturday evening at 11:45.

According to Stockman, firemen from No. 5 and Central departments, who were called to the scene of the blaze by an alarm from box 53, found a bucket of oil on the floor near a wall, which was blazing merrily when they arrived. The fire was extinguished with a loss of approximately $25.

Damage of approximately $300 was done at a garage owned by the Harry Cohen heirs, rear 402 East Long avenue, at 4:30 Sunday afternoon. An alarm from box 56 called No. 5 and Central departments to the scene of the blaze.

Saturday evening firemen were called to East Long avenue, where boys, noticing the sparks from two wires which had worn bare, sent in an alarm. Firemen on arriving at the scene sent word to the Pennsylvania Power company to have the trouble fixed. There was no fire damage.

At 5 o'clock Saturday evening firemen were called to Dilworth avenue by an alarm from box 17. A woman had called in to Central station, stating that a field fire was endangering two residences. When firemen arrived, they found that a man was watching the blaze, and after putting out the fire in grass around a telephone pole, it started to rain, so the firemen left the scene.

Increase Highway Patrolmen Here

Five Members Of State Highway Patrol Are On Duty Now

New Castle is now a "five-man station" of the state highway patrol, the force having been increased here today by the arrival of Patrolman J. K. Barnes, formerly attached to the Harrisburg station. Corporal Lawton is in charge and the other patrolmen are Sarko, Stoores and Cunningham.

Local Amateurs Battle Tonight

Eight Amateur Bouts To Be Staged In Armory Ring

HARLAN MOONEY MEETS MONARCH

Everything is in readiness for the eight Punch duels tonight at the armory and it is highly probable that when the eight amateur battles will either have been "kayod" or have landed a sopping wallop.

Of the 16 battles, whose combined weight totals 2334 pounds, five reside in New Castle. Owing to this fact fans who have been pinning for a sight of New Castle gladiators will be in their seats when the bell clangs.

They're Well Known.

Some of the amateurs who will appear tonight have established fairly good reputations in A. A. U. bouts. For instance, Kid Francis of New Kensington, a middleweight, is said to be the "pumpkins". He is matched to fight Earl King of Youngstown.

Pete Boy of Ellwood City, another middleweight, staged a nice battle for his win against Don Lenhart of Youngstown. It will be the first appearance of Lenhart in a New Castle ring.

There isn't a follower of amateur boxing here who witnessed Harlan Mooney fight in the last amateur show who will be missing from the ring-side tonight. Although it was Mooney's first scrap, he fought from bell to bell and when the fight was over both he and his opponent got a rousing ovation.

The other four New Castle battles will be staging their debut. According to their supporters they have trained faithfully and hope to come through with victories, either on points or by knockouts tonight. Some of their foes have been active in amateur ranks but this doesn't seem to disturb them.

One thing about tonight's schedule of events is that those who like middleweights can see them in action and the fans who like the bantamweights will also see them clash. In fact all classes from bantam to middleweight included will be represented after the first bell rings at 8:30 p. m.

Start on Time.

According to attaches of the New Castle A. C., which is sponsoring the show, there'll be no delays and that as soon as one bout is over the next will start.

The A. A. U. commissioner for Lawrence, Mercer, Beaver and Butler counties will be present and Bebe Biondi, local state athletic deputy commissioner, will be on the job.

The lineup of bouts follows:

160 pounds: Kid Francis, New Kensington, vs. Earl King, Youngstown.

160 pounds: Jack Dunkle, New Castle, vs. Mickey Lyle, Franklin.

160 pounds: Adam Presner, New Castle, vs. Harry Frisk, Mercer.

150 pounds: Pete Boy, Ellwood City, vs. Don Lenhart, Youngstown.

147 pounds: Frank Peluso, New Castle, vs. John Boycan, Mercer.

140 pounds: Harlan Mooney, New Castle, vs. Vito Monarch, Mercer.

135 pounds: John Campbell, New Castle, vs. Nick Lyle, Franklin.

115 pounds: Mickey Devlin, New Kensington, vs. Billy Wisdom, Franklin.

Battalino Gets Test Thursday

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Billy Petrolle and Bat Battalino, the two greatest drawing cards in a New York ring this year, clash in a 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The outcome has the experts guessing. In his first appearance as a welterweight recently after relinquishing the featherweight title, Battalino scored an easy victory over Eddie Ran, Polish slugger. Ran previously had put up a stiff battle against Petrolle before being knocked out by the Fargo Express.

Petrolle has not been beaten since he lost to Jimmy McLarnin here last summer.

The week's card will be inaugurated at the St. Nicholas club tonight when Jack (Kid) Berg of England, makes his first ring appearance since he lost to Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, last summer. Berg meets Buster Brown, Baltimore, in a ten-round bout.

De Hart To Play At Armory Tuesday

De Hart will meet the Campus Capers of Allegheny Tuesday night at the armory. The Capers are said to be the best colored team standardized for action here. The De Harts played the Mystics of Youngstown recently. It was a good game but in the extra period the Mystic team won 19 to 18.

Nut Floor Meet Starts Tuesday

Nut basketball tournament will get under way Tuesday night at the Y, according to Henry McNicholas, athletic director at the local institution. Members of senior classes and church league players are eligible. However, no two members of any one church league can play on a team in the Nut league. The name of the tournament is derived from the fact that each team will be named after some kind of nut.

Harlansburg Five Had Good Season

Harlansburg Alumni Basketball Team Won 12 And Lost 4 Games

Harlansburg Alumni basketball team, coached by Louis "Pick" Glitch has just finished a most successful season, winning 12 games and losing four. They played a tough schedule with all of the best and fastest teams in the county.

The team was composed of former Harlansburg High stars, as follows: Joe McCracken, Johnson, Cunningham, Montgomery, H. McCracken, Harlan, Campbell, S. McCracken, McCracken, and Dighl. Cunningham was business manager also and Montgomery was captain of the team. The most notable victories of the year was the defeat twice of Princeton.

The Alumni team scored a total of 473 points for the season against 301 for their opponents, this is quite an enviable achievement.

The following record was made by the team for the season just ended:

Alumni	46	Harlansburg High	14

St. Michaels Trim Baptists

Baptists Drop To Third Place In B Loop, Church League

ST. JOHNS DEFEAT FIRST METHODISTS

First Baptists were forced out of a deadlock for second place with St. Michaels when the Baptists were defeated by St. Michaels 23 to 22 in a B loop, Church league game Saturday at the Y.

Sacred Hearts head the division and with St. Michaels only one game behind it is likely a pretty race will be staged before Sacred Hearts can win the second half flag.

In the other B loop game First M. E. gave St. John's Lutherans a hard fight and lost only by two points. The score was 25 to 23. St. John's now is deadlocked with Temple Israel for fourth place.

Only one A division game was played. It proved an easy victory for the First Baptists over Sacred Hearts 43 to 23. The First Baptists led throughout.

HOW TEAMS STAND		W. L. Pct.
A Loop—
Epworth M. E.	5	1	.833
First Baptist	5	1	.833
Wesley M. E.	4	2	.666
Temple Israel	3	3	.500
Sacred Hearts	2	4	.333

St. John's	3	3	.500
First Chris.	2	4	.333
First M. E.	1	5	.166
Central Chris.	0	6	.000

The St. Michaels-First Baptists game in the B loop appeared as though St. Michaels would have a walkaway in the first half which ended 13 to seven in their favor.

In the second half, however, St. Michaels were held to four field goals and two foul points while First Baptists annexed five field goals and five points from the free throw line.

Balla's Shooting St. Michaels.

Balla's shooting of field goals played a big part in St. Michaels' victory. In fact had it not been for his six field goals and one point from foul they would have been out of luck.

Efforts to stop him failed and time and again he hung up double markers. Whitman, pivotal for the First Baptists played a good game and scored eight of First Baptists' 20 points.

The other B loop game which was taken by St. John's over First M. E. was a brilliant game and victory was not decided until the last whistle.

CHANGE SCHEDULE

Club league series of the Church league divisions will start March 28, according to Henry McNicholas. Games originally scheduled for tonight and Friday have been changed to a later date and the new schedule of games effective tonight and order in which they will be staged follows:

First Methodist vs. St. Michaels, B loop.

Sacred Hearts vs. Epworth M. E., A loop.

Highland U. P. vs. Temple Israel, A loop.

The first game tonight will start promptly at eight p. m.

St. John's romped free and easy in the first half for 17 points while First M. E. was collecting six. It seemed as though Senesi could not be checked. He caged five field goals.

Bobokey and Anderson helped to amass the team's 17 points but during the second half the situation was reversed as First M. E. garnered 17 points to eight for St. Johns.

It was Lockley and Brooks that raised havoc with St. Johns. They shot field goals from difficult positions and accounted for 12 of the 17 points in the second half.

Check St. Johns Sentinel

Senesi was guarded close in the second half and he could only work through for two field goals and the same system was applied to English. They got only eight points in the last half.

The First Baptists A deluged the baskets with goals in the game with Sacred Hearts A. Every member of the team scored.

Raney shot seven field goals and accounted for a point from foul. T. Genneck, right sentinel for the losing team however, played spectacularly and got his five 10 points.

AFTER BRADDOCK'S DEFEAT WASHINGTON BRAVELY REMAINED BEHIND WITH A SMALL BODY OF PROVINCIALS TO COVER THE DISGRACEFUL RETREAT OF THE BRITISH REGULARS, WHO SCARCELY PAUSED UNTIL THEY REACHED WILLS CREEK.

WASHINGTON SPENT AS MUCH TIME AS HE COULD AT THE SIDE OF THE FATALLY WOUNDED BRADDOCK. IN HIS LAST MOMENTS THE DYING GENERAL BEQUEATHED TO WASHINGTON HIS FAVORITE ENGLISH CHARGER AND HIS FAITHFUL BODY-SERVANT BISHOP.

ON JULY 13 (1755) BRADDOCK DIED, BROKENLY MURMURING, "WE SHALL KNOW BETTER HOW TO DEAL WITH THEM THE NEXT TIME." HE DIED KNOWING THAT HIS STUBBORN FOLLY AND BLIND CONCEIT HAD COST HUNDREDS OF LIVES.

BRADDOCK WAS BURIED IN THE ROAD OVER WHICH HE HAD TRAVELED WITH SUCH HIGH HOPES. HORSES AND WAGONS WERE DRIVEN OVER THE LONELY GRAVE TO HIDE IT FROM PRYING INDIANS.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Mustering up as friendly a smile as is possible under the circumstances, we bid Spring a cheery good morning today, but what we have in the back of our minds would never reach the reader's eye. Spring didn't breeze in, she skidded in, on a sheet of ice.

It practically ruins the efforts of all the poets of the country. The first day of spring draws a flock of effort from the versifying gentry, dealing with birds in the trees, moonlight on the Shenango, buds about to burst into being, and all that sort of thing. But with an ice coated world staring them right between the face, what can a poet do about it?

Of course there are those who would insist that this ice was a blessing in disguise; it acted as a check damper on poetical effusions.

We were all set for Spring. Up in New Wilmington on Saturday afternoon there was a line of bathing suits out drying. Which reminds us that "When It's Spring-time in New Wilmington, I'll Be Swimming Back To You".

And think what a blow this will be to the weaker (?) sex, if it keeps up until next Sunday. Every church in the city can expect a heavy attendance next Sunday, if the weather is anything near what it should be.

Since Prof. Lacock went through here in search of data on the trail taken by George Washington, there has been plenty of reaction. Attorney E. F. G. Harper, who is senior vice president of the State Sons of the American Revolution, states that sometime ago the local chapter had a committee working on this data.

This committee located Murthertown north of Franklin, which does not fit in with Prof. Lacock's theory that it is in this section somewhere. People around Zelienople believe it is on the Conoquenessing Creek, but in the S. A. R. committee was satisfied that it was north of Franklin.

H. Claire Stockman, assistant chief of the fire department sends in a clipping of a letter published in a Pittsburgh paper some days ago. This letter corrects what is asserted to be errors in an article by Dr. W. J. Showalter in the National Geographic, in which Showalter says that "Washington's party came to the path leading from the Kuskusksies who lived somewhere about New Castle."

The writer of the letter goes on to say that Showalter assumed that Kuskusksies meant Indians, whereas it was the name of a place, or region, the center of which is where New Castle now stands.

Kuskusksies is a corruption of the Delaware "Gosch-gosch" meaning a hog, with the Delaware locative "ing" mean "at", added. Hence Kuskusksies means the "place of hogs". The letter writer assumes that this refers to the fact that there was much drunkenness among the Indians, caused by the traders bringing firewater with them, and trading it to the Delaware Indians.

"The Holy City" In Christian Church

The regular Wednesday evening church service in the First Christian church this week will be in the form of a musical service, with the choir singing the famous oratorio, "The Holy City" by A. R. Gaul.

The service will begin at 7:45 with an organ prelude by Mrs. Mary Virginia Patterson.

WOMAN FOUND SHOT

TO DEATH IN HOME
CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Mar. 21.—Mrs. Mae Brown, 51, was found shot to death in bed at her home here. The bullet entered her mouth.

Her husband, James Brown, found the body when he returned home after his night's work. She had been in ill health.

"Future generations will dig up this civilization." You mean they'll dig up to pay off its bonds.

Don't Pay If This Fails To Knock Your Cold In A Few Hours

Feel Like A New Person Almost Before You Know It

HILL'S Cascara Quinine is GUARANTEED to knock a cold in a hurry. To relieve the pain, to break up tightness. If it fails, you pay nothing.

This guarantee is made to prove to those who have tried fifty ways to lose a cold, that the surest way is to go back to first principles and use something that you KNOW does the work. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water too—that's all. You'll feel like a new person almost before you know it. Pain eased, congestion broken; your mind cleared and yourself ready to go back on the job with a wallop.

That's because Hill's is a scientific formula made to DO ONE THING WELL: to knock colds in a hurry—not to cure a score of different troubles.

Costs only a few cents at any drug store. Get package now. Your money back if fails. Try it—you'll be glad that you did.

Former American Stage Star Found Gas Fumes Victim

Nellie Richards, 63, Former Well Known Singer, Found Dead In London

(International News Service) LONDON, Mar. 21.—Nellie Richards, 63, old-time American vaudeville star who popularized the song "Johnnie Get-Your-Gun," was found dead in her one-room apartment in the West End today. The room was filled with gas.

Police said a tea kettle, which stood on a stove in the room, apparently had boiled over and extinguished the flame on the burner beneath, while Miss Richards was asleep in her bed nearby.

Condition Critical Injured In Accident

James Barrett, Carlisle street, is in a critical condition at the Jameson Memorial hospital, suffering from injuries to the skull, received in an automobile accident a week ago on the Midland road.

Ernest Moore, Winter avenue was also injured in the same accident, but he is recovering nicely. Dick Fisher and George McNahy were in the party, but were uninjured.

A young man from Beaver was with the group and he is in a serious condition in the Beaver hospital.

Will Operate On Lazy Tiger In Zoo

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Laziness was to bring its own punishment to good old Dick today.

He is the 18-year-old tiger in the Central Park zoo and he will be operated on for an ingrowing toenail.

Like all felines, Dick has long, sharp claws. Active animals keep these well manicured by scratching them frequently. But Dick neglected to use the special scratching pole provided for him.

Keepers will rope the 350-pound beast and tie him to a pillar. A veterinarian will perform the operation in the tiger's cage.

Mexican Military Escort Is Praised

Small Detachment Of Men Aboard Wrecked Train Drives Off Bandits

(International News Service) MEXICO CITY, Mar. 21.—Government officials today congratulated for their bravery the small military escort of an international express train derailed at Mariscal yesterday by bandits who then ambushed it.

A fireman and messenger were killed as the train crashed. Immediately the bandits poured a heavy rain of gunfire upon all cars, causing panic among the passengers. The guards quickly returned the fire, killing one of the robbers and chasing away the others, estimated to have numbered about 30. Almost miraculously, none of the passengers were hurt either in the crash or the fighting.

The train, bound from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico City, carried 11 Americans.

CHARLEY THOMAS ASKS FOR HELP

Charley Thomas, who has been blind for many years as a result of an explosion, wants to have a little repair work done on his house on Sheep Hill and is appealing to New Castle citizens to help him out with funds.

Charley, a familiar figure with his tin cup, usually located on a Washington street corner, told a reporter this morning that he had been on the streets all morning and received a nickel and one penny. The windows in the house have been broken in and Charley believes that he can get some of them fixed with the help of local people.

Daring Robbery In Chicago Nets Bandits Big Sum

Three Held Up, Store Keys And Safe Combination Taken, Loot $10,000

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Mar. 21.—A daring robbery perpetrated here early today, netted bandits $10,000. Three men halted H. D. Saperston, his wife, and a friend in front of the Saperston home. Two of the men held the women prisoners while the third forced Saperston to reveal the combination of the safe in the Loop shoe store where he is employed as manager.

The bandit took the store keys from Saperston and left the apartment with his accomplices on guard. The bandit returned to the Saperston home, announced he had obtained the money, cut the telephone wires, warned his captives not to notify police, and escaped with his accomplices.

PIMPLES GONE IN FEW HOURS

Costs You 35 Cents

Don't let blemishes ruin even one day's charm for you—not when that amazing, skin-correcting Peterson's Ointment brings about such a satisfactory improvement in your complexion within 24 hours. And a few days' persistent treatment banishes the worst old stubborn pimples, restoring skin to a natural, healthy loveliness again.

In Peterson's there is a scientific blend of unusually efficacious, soothing and healing ingredients which no other Ointment has—powerful skin restoratives which start right in to reduce redness, remove soreness and to heal ugly blemishes—so wonderful, often only 2 or three applications are needed to make skin clear and healthy.

And one 35 cent box at any drug store will prove it.

Japan Will Rush Soldier Units To Eastern Manchuria

Ask Russians For Permission To Use Chinese Eastern Railway

(International News Service) MUKDEN, Mar. 21.—Japan intends to rush still more troops into Eastern Manchuria to suppress bandit and revolutionary activities against the new independent regime under Henry Pu-Kai, it became known today.

Japanese army headquarters here admitted they were negotiating with Moscow for permission to move troops over the Eastern branch of the Chinese Eastern Railway, half-owned by Russia.

The Japanese want to dispatch four trainloads of soldiers, it was reported.

P. T. A. Organizes At Slippery Rock

New Organization For Shady-side School District Will Work For School Interest

The patrons and taxpayers of the Shady-side school district in Slippery Rock township met at the school building Thursday evening of last week for the purpose of organizing a Parent-Teacher Association.

Rev. S. L. Cobb was appointed chairman of the meeting and Mrs. Koach acted as secretary.

Officers chosen for the new organization were: president, Mrs. Mougnot; vice president, Mrs. Bright; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Black.

A committee including Messrs. Powell, Bright and Black, will draw up a set of by-laws for the association. A membership, a social and a program committee will be appointed by the officers.

Mrs. Ethel King, teacher, will be in charge of the next meeting's program, with the pupils taking part.

The committee, which planned this organization, Messrs. Mougnot, Powell, Bright and Koach, were retained to finish up the organization plans.

A program followed the business session with a playlet, "Grandma Finds a Way" as the featuring entertainment, presented by Mesdames Bright and Powell, Anamie Powell and Ruth Bright.

A spelling bee was conducted for the entire group.

ALFORD IN HOSPITAL

Paul Alford, Y. M. C. A. wrestling champ here and one of the outstanding matmen of the district was reported to be resting well in the Jameson Memorial hospital today, recuperating from shoulder injuries suffered in a bout at Erie last week.
